Ike Eases Secrecy on Atom Data

Canada, 13 NATO Nations to Get U.S. Information on Atomic Arms

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower today approved a proposed international agreement on the exchange of information dealing with atomic weapons among the 14 North Atlantic Treaty nations.

The agreement, still to be formally signed by the NATO nations, provides for exchange of data dealing with:

1. Development of defense plans.

2. The training of personnel in the use of and defense against atomic weapons.

Announcement of the president's approval of the proposed agreement was made at his vacation headquarters here by White House press secretary James C. Hagerty.

Hagerty emphasized that the agreement "does not relate in any way to exchange of atomic information with anyone on the manufacture or production of atomic weapons."

He said no actual atomic weapons will be exchanged.

Canada Defenses Aided by New Plan

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's armed forces and civil defense organizations are expected to receive more atomic information from the United States under a draft NATO agreement announced today.

The information deals with training of personnel in the use of and defense against atomic weapons; development of defense plans; and evaluation of a potential enemy's atomic capabilities.

The external affairs department said the agreement probably will be signed within the next two months. It was approved today by President Eisenhower.

The agreement, proposed to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization by the United States, will permit the U.S. to give its allies atomic information which the U.S. "deems necessary" for them to have.

A defense department spokesman said Canada already is receiving atomic information from the U.S. For example, Canadian observers are attending the current series of atomic tests in Nevada, the first such U.S. tests Canadians have been permitted to see.

In addition, the Canadian Army's No. 1 radiation detection unit is to participate in the tests late this month or early May.

The spokesman added, however, that the agreement is a broadening of U.S. policy in the atomic field and a "step ahead."

British Say Air Crash 'Unfortunate Mishap'

Full Precautions Taken at Hong Kong During Stopover of India Air Liner

LONDON (UP)—The Foreign Office today officially described the crash of an Air India plane carrying Communist Chinese representatives to the Afro-Asian conference in Indonesia as an "unfortunate accident."

The statement came shortly after the United States denied as "preposterous" the Peiping government's charges that Washington ordered the plane sabotaged.

The Foreign Office said full precautions were taken by Hong Kong authorities to prevent sabotage when the four-engine Constellation stopped there for an hour on its flight to Djakarta, Indonesia.

NEHRU STATEMENT

The British view took the steam out of a statement by Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru that the crash in the South China Sea Monday "has some very unusual features." He called it "peculiarly painful and distressing" because the plane was carrying the Peiping delegates.

Eight Chinese Communists, a representative from the Red state of Viet Minh in Indo-China, two European journalists and seven Indian crew members were aboard the plane. Only three persons, all Indian crewmen, were believed saved. A report that six were saved was put down to "garbled" radio messages.

A Peiping protest said the Communist Chinese had warned Humphrey Trevelyan, British charge d'affaires in the Red Capital, of possible sabotage when the plane reached Hong Kong. The Communist charges were broadcast first by the Peiping radio. Moscow rebroadcast them today.

A Foreign Office spokesman confirmed that Communist China gave Britain an advance warning "in general terms" of "possible trouble" in store for the Constellation.

He said this information was passed promptly to Hong Kong authorities and they took immediate precautions. The fact the plane later crashed was only an "unfortunate accident," the Foreign Office said, and "we very much regret the loss of life."

Treaty Talks Make Progress Says Molotov

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov said today he believes his current talks with Austrian Chancellor Julius Raab will facilitate the conclusion of an Austrian state treaty.

This would end the 10-year occupation of that country by Russia, United States, Britain and France. Asked whether the talks will lead to negotiations in signing a treaty, Molotov replied: "Not everything depends on us.

"We would like something agreed among the four powers and Austria and we believe that what will be agreed on here with Austria will facilitate that ultimate objective."

Molotov chatted with Western reporters at a reception given by Austrian ambassador Norbert Bischoff in honor of his visiting chief.

By saying "not everything depends on us," the Russian diplomat was referring to the need for agreement with the other occupying powers in order to conclude the treaty.

TALKS GOING WELL

Asked if his talks with the Austrians were going well, Molotov replied: "I think so." Then he added:

"The talks are going on on the old basis but positions are being made more precise and there is a certain rapprochement."

U.S. MEDAL FOR SALK?

WASHINGTON (Reuters) — Congress was asked today to honor Dr. Jonas Salk with a gold medal for his discovery of the anti-poliomyelitis vaccine.

A bill authorizing the treasury to coin a medal with suitable inscriptions was presented in the House of Representatives.

6,000 HERE LIST NAMES FOR VACCINE

Druggists Fear Can't Fill Demand

TORONTO (CP) — Parke, Davis and Co. Ltd. says it can "saturate" the commercial polio vaccine market in Canada within 90 days.

(Gordon D. Hambley, Canadian sales manager, said a "three-shot" vial will sell in Canada for $6 or $6.60, plus the administering physician's fee.

An estimated 6,000 Greater Victoria families have already placed their names on drug store waiting lists for Salk anti-polio vaccine, a telephone survey revealed today.

Most pharmacists are doubtful that initial stocks will be sufficient to fill the demand.

However, drug store waiting lists may prove meaningless in view of statements by doctors Tuesday that first vaccine prescriptions will be for children and expectant mothers.

Two Canadian supply houses, Parke Davis & Company Ltd. and Eli Lilly Corporation, each expect to land Salk vaccine here in a matter of days. But no druggist interviewed today appeared certain how great a quantity would arrive.

3,000 DOSES

One supply house is believed to have allotted 3,000 doses to Victoria, 50 per cent going direct to doctors.

Eli Lilly Company possibly will delay shipments due to a change in the dosage advocated by Dr. James E. Salk. Heretofore all three injections were given in a period of a month and a half. Dr. Salk said Tuesday his new studies indicate the results would be better if the third dose was delayed seven months.

Free distribution of the Salk vaccine to all who wish it is the long-range plan of B.C. government health authorities, it was announced by Dr. George Elliott, deputy provincial health officer, in Vancouver Tuesday.

(In Ontario the government plans to provide vaccine injections to every school child, free of charge, as fast as the vaccine becomes available.)

CANADA EXEMPTED

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. government today slapped export controls on the Salk polio vaccine.

The commerce department said the controls will be maintained until production of the vaccine is sufficient to meet both anticipated domestic and foreign demands.

Under the control system, licenses will be required for any shipment abroad except to Canada.

NEW TARGET

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UP) — Dr. Salk believes science should now turn its efforts against mental disease as the next major target of preventive medicine.

"The area of mental disease is one of the largest by far, and particularly desperately in need of quantitative measures that tell us precisely what we are dealing with," Dr. Salk said Tuesday night.

SHORTS SAVED DOC KEARNS COOL $10,000

SAN FRANCISCO (BUP)—Middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson weighed in today at 169 for his non-title 10-round fight with former light heavyweight King Joey Maxim.

Maxim first weighed in at 175¼ pounds. For a moment his manager, Doc Kearns, thought he had lost at $10,000 forfeit which he posted to guarantee that the heavy-eating Maxim would weight in at no more than 175 for the Cow Palace fight.

But Maxim whipped off his shorts and stepped on the scales for a second time to weigh an even 175 and saved his skipper the $10,000.

(The fight will be televised and Victorians can view the action on Channel 11, Tacoma.)

Weather, Wind Favor Thomas Swim Tonight

Zero Hour Nears for Husky Swimmer

Strait challenger Bert Thomas (270 pounds) matched muscles with his trainer, Maurie Hume (240) as the zero hour drew near for Thomas to match muscles with Juan de Fuca Strait. Weather forecasts delayed definite decision on whether or not the swim would start at 9 tonight as originally planned. (Times photo by Bill Halkett.)

9 p.m. Take-off Decision Delayed For Final Check

Chances of making his Juan de Fuca swim attempt tonight at 9 appeared favorable to Bert Thomas and party at noon today, but last-minute decision was not to be made until later today.

Tonight's weather conditions in the strait were forecast this morning by the local weather office. Winds at 15-20 miles an hour are expected from the southwest this evening and Thursday morning, which may be stronger in the strait itself.

Navigator Hugh Evans and trainer Maurie Hume were taking a small boat six or seven miles into the strait this afternoon to "look for themselves."

If the swim is postponed, it is planned to make another attempt Thursday at 10 p.m. from the same spot—Horseshoe Bay—and if weather is still against an attempt, no further try will be made until May, probably about the middle of the month.

CONFLICTING REPORTS

At noon today the official swim party found it was getting conflicting reports on expected weather conditions tonight and Thursday morning.

Port Angeles Coast Guard station told trainer Hume by telephone that winds during the planned swim period would blow up from the NNW to 15 miles an hour, which would be comparatively calm for the strait.

This morning's forecast from Victoria weather office predicted steady westerly winds from 15-20 miles an hour and possible gusts to 25 out in the strait proper. Showers were also predicted.

Escort and navigation vessels to take part in the swim flotilla are expected to include the Island Challenger with navigator Captain Hugh Evans and newspapermen aboard; the Island Trooper and the privately-owned schooner Black Dog.

The coaching boat, with outboard motor, will be in command of Mr. Hume and Dave Evans, brother of the navigator. Lionel Dickson and Doug Hobbs will act as timers, and Bert's wife Marion will assist in the small boat.

Captain Evans and Mr. Hume will be in touch with each other by radio-telephone. The navigator's tug will be about 50 yards ahead of the coaching boat and will carry a bright blue light on the after mast to guide Thomas.

CUTTER READY

Coast Guard cutters from Port Angeles will perform additional escort duties, the trainer said.

Meanwhile, Dr. Frank James, Tacoma, arrived in Victoria at noon to prepare the swimmer's liquid diet which will be administered to him in the water by means of a plastic tube.

The mixtures will include water, lemon, dextrose and rum and are calculated to provide the number of calories it is estimated Thomas will consume in swimming the 18½-mile, 9-11-hour course.

Dr. James pronounces Thomas "physically fit," but points out that sea-sickness is always possible.

"There is not a man in the world who cannot be made sea-sick if he is buffeted around enough or swallows enough sea water," the doctor said.

"I am praying that it will not be too rough. Given the right conditions, I think he has the stuff to make it."

Dr. James was a flying command surgeon in the United States Air Force in the Second World War, and has had much experience in the field of emergency treatment as taught to para-medics.

He will be on board the navigating tug and will have with him equipment to take care of any emergency.

Police say they will have men on duty at Horseshoe Bay to take care of traffic and crowds if the swim carries on.

Medical Forum Assured Of Full House Thursday

A full attendance at the free medical forum on heart disease Thursday night was assured today when final tickets were issued to those who have applied for them.

The forum, sponsored by the Times and the Victoria Medical Society, takes place at the Central Junior High School auditorium.

Doors to the auditorium will open at 7.30 p.m. and the forum begins at 8 p.m.

Admission will be by tickets issued over the last few weeks in response to applications.

Since it is possible some people who have received tickets will find themselves unable to attend because of last minute engagements, there probably will be a few seats available for those without tickets, but ticket holders will have priority.

The Yates Street entrance will be used by the public. There are no large scale parking facilities on the school grounds, so parking will be on nearby streets.

Between 7.30 and 8, the Victoria Musicians' Union, Local 247, under Vernon Bryant, will provide a band concert of military and appropriate airs to entertain early arrivals.

Program for the forum provides for a two-hour session on all phases of heart disease.

After opening introductions by Stuart Keate, Times publisher, and Dr. Gordon Grant, president of the medical society, the forum will be turned over to Dr. T. F. Rose as moderator.

With the aid of large charts he will explain the functions of the heart.

FIVE DOCTORS

Each of the five doctors on the panel will then deal with different aspects of heart trouble as follows:

Dr. Andrew Gillespie, "Heart Disease and Children."

Dr. P. A. C. Cousland, "Coronary Artery Diseases."

Dr. Stuart Kenning, "High Blood Pressure."

Dr. Rose, "Heart Failure."

Dr. Peter Banks, "Care of the Aging Heart Patient."

They will deal for 10 minutes each with these subjects and the panel will turn to answering questions.

Out of literally hundreds of questions submitted by the public for the forum, some will be answered by the main addresses. Forty others have been selected for specific answers by different members of the panel to occupy the next hour of the program.

Greek-Anglican Communion Sexton's Hope

Hope that the Anglican Church and the Greek Orthodox Church will be "in full communion with one another at an early date," was expressed here today by Archbishop of British Columbia H. E. Sexton.

He was commenting on the theological aspects of a funeral held from Christ Church Cathedral Tuesday for well-known Victoria restaurateur Theodore Alexis, 73, a Greek Orthodox adherent.

Said His Grace: "The priest who officiated (Rev. Zeates, Vancouver) at the funeral belongs to the Greek Orthodox Church which is one of the great branches of the Catholic Church, and is on terms of great friendship with the Church of England, so that whenever possible Anglican churches are available for use by the priests of that church."

The Greek Orthodox Church is not in communion with Rome.

RED-TINGED LINES TOO DULL FOR LONDONERS

Paperless Percy Avid for News —But 'Worker' Just Ain't Got It

By HAL COOPER

LONDON (AP)—A bartender friend of ours named Percy (with his face he can carry it) emerged from deep inside the Communist Daily Worker today and pronounced judgment:

"It'll never replace the old-fashioned newspaper."

He may be on solid ground, but at the moment the Red party organ—all four pages and 80,000 copies of it—is striving to do so.

Because of London's newspaper strike, The Worker is the only daily publishing in the capital. It is read avidly by people who normally wouldn't fondle it with a set of tongs.

It fetches premium prices on the black market.

What an opportunity for converts!

Recognizing this, The Worker in a front page editorial has deposed thusly:

"No new reader who comes again must find he can not get the Daily Worker. All newly won ground must be consolidated."

This led us to interview Percy—who might be described loosely as newly won ground—to see whether he is so fa. in a condition of consolidation.

Well, we've got news for The Worker—and it's not good.

"I want to be fair about this," said Percy. "But to tell you the truth, I think I'd rather have my Daily Mirror."

We asked him what faults he had to find with The Worker. "Look at this front page," said Percy, pointing to the headline: "Bulgarians Conquer London."

"Fair gave me a start, that did. And you know what it's about? It's about some dancing troupe from Sofia. What kind of a lark is that?"

He read off some other headlines:

"Catastrophe in cotton; human realities of slump in our oldest industry"—"shop workers want 15-shilling rise" — "teachers bitter" —"don't make H-bomb, calls union"—" 'bolder' U.S. war plan for Europe."

"Couple of weeks of that and I'll be so deep in the dumps they'll have to sink a shaft for me," Percy commented.

STRIKE RULED UNJUSTIFIABLE

LONDON (Reuters)—An impartial government investigation today found a 20-day-old London newspaper strike "unjustifiable" and recommended the 700 striking electricians and maintenance men to return to their jobs, pending further negotiations.

The labor ministry immediately called a peace meeting for Thursday morning in an effort to gain a settlement and head off the scheduled dismissal Friday of 20,000 non-editorial workers outside the strike.

Hope Mister Thomas keeps t' th' strait an' narrow, though there'll prob'ly be too much o' th' former an' not enuff o' th' latter.

Canadian Musicians Invited To Make Tour of Soviet Union

By VICTOR MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA — An invitation to Canadian musicians to appear in Russian theatres and concert halls has been extended by the Soviet Union, it was revealed here Wednesday by the Soviet Embassy.

The invitation is apparently a result of the friendly reception accorded a group of Russian artists who made a Canadian concert tour last year. They appeared in major Canadian centres including Vancouver.

The offer to have a representative group of Canadians go behind the Iron Curtain follows the bid by the Supreme Soviet of the U.S.S.R. to Canadian parliamentarians to send representatives of the Canadian Commons and Senate to Russia.

The invitation to Canadian parliament is now under study by the speakers of the two houses and members of the Senate and Commons. It may see a group leave Canada later this year for Moscow.

Reference to the latest invitation to Canadians to visit Russia is contained in a publication circulated here Wednesday by the Soviet Embassy. It is entitled the "U.S.S.R. Illustrated News." It features an article written by Leonid Kogan and headed "A Few Words to Canadian Friends." Mr. Kogan was the premier violinist of the troupe that toured Canadian cities last year.

In part he states "we will be glad to welcome you in our theatres and concert halls. We, together with Soviet audiences as a whole, will be glad to applaud your talent."

Pakistan Government Stripped of Powers

Court Rules Mohamed Assumed Authority Beyond Legal Rights; Country in Legal Vacuum

LAHORE, Pakistan (AP) — The federal court knocked out the governor-general's emergency powers Tuesday and left Pakistan in a legal vacuum again—with no one authorized to approve necessary laws.

Constitutional experts said the ruling meant the government had no right to collect taxes, sentence criminals or carry on any other normal functions.

The court held extraordinary powers Governor-General Ghulan Mohamed assumed last month were beyond his legal authority. It also said he exceeded his authority in legalizing 35 acts of the Constituent Assembly, which he had dissolved earlier.

The ruling revived the legal crisis that has plagued Pakistan's government since the governor-teneral dissolved the Assembly and took what amounted to supreme authority last Oct. 24.

NO RETROACTIVE POWER

On March 21 the Federal Court upheld his dissolution of the Assembly, which had been drafting a constitution for seven years but had not finished its work.

The court also ruled 46 constitutional provisions passed by the Assembly were invalid because they never had received the governor-general's assent. This stripped the government of administrative machinery.

Experts said Ghulam Mohamed could not give his assent retroactively. They advised him to declare a state of emergency, assume special powers and use the powers to validate the Assembly's acts.

He did so March 27, declaring 36 of the constitutional provisions in question to be valid. Why he did not legalize the other 11 was not explained.

Ghulam Mohamed also merged Pakistan's several provinces into two—West Pakistan and East Pakistan—to end interprovincial rivalries.

Tuesday's court ruling apparently put the situation right back where it was three weeks ago—nobody seemed to have authority to make basic laws for the country.

Vancouver Dithers On Fare Hike Refund

VANCOUVER (CP)—Decision is expected to be reached by Vancouver city council today on the question of whether to request the Public Utilities Commission to cut transit fares for six months as a means of reimbursing bus riders for money collected prior to the recent fare roll-back. The proposal was discussed Tuesday but no vote was taken as Mayor Fred Hume and three aldermen were absent.

Futile Hunt at Banff For Lost Calgary Skier

BANFF, Alta. (CP) — No clues have been found as to the whereabouts of Hendrick Harting, 36-year-old Calgary skier missing since Sunday in the avalanche-endangered area 15 miles west of here where even park wardens are forbidden to travel alone.

Ground and air search parties scoured the mountainous territory Tuesday without success, leaving only the faintest hope that Harting will be found alive.

UBC Teacher Elected By Public Health Group

VANCOUVER (CP) — Miss Ruth Morrison, assistant director of the school of nursing at University of B.C., was elected president of the B.C. division of the Canadian Public Health Association here Tuesday.

Vice-presidents elected at the annual meeting are George H. Armson and Miss Rosalind Ross.

Magistrate Sees Deception In Vancouver Beggar's Case

VANCOUVER (CP) — Jack Frolic, a familiar flugre on crutches who stood outside a department store with a sign and a tin can for the last 15 years, was convicted Tuesday of begging.

Magistrate Gordon Scott remanded the 57-year-old man for sentence.

Frolic, who claims he was injured in a logging accident in 1928, testified he was unable to work and could not walk without his crutches.

". . . Have you ever walked along the street carrying your crutches?" asked the magistrate.

"No. Never."

"Have you ever vaulted along the street swinging your crutches around your shoulders?"

"No. I can't do that."

"Well, somebody seems to be passing himself off as you," Magistrate Scott said.

Frolic said he never asked anyone for money and never rattled his can.

"If people want to give me something that is fine. It comes from the heart. But I never ask for a cent," he said.

Frolic said he would receive about 48 cents on a poor day. His take on a good day was about $4, he said.

On Side of the West

PHILIPPINES' ROMULO

JAPAN'S TANI

Clever Chou, Nehru To Dominate Parley?

BANDUNG, Indonesia (UP) —In this freshly painted city on the west end of Java, ringed by soldiers to keep the hill bandits out, a meeting unique in the world's history begins next week.

It will bring together representatives of more than half the peoples of the globe.

Almost all of them are Orientals, Negroes or from the Arab races with a common detestation of white colonialism.

It is called the Afro-Asian conference. Delegates from 29 nations on those two continents will attend. It begins Monday, April 18.

Turks, Burmese, Egyptians, Filipinos, Arabs, Japanese, Ethiopians, delegates from the Negro republic of Liberia, from remote Afghanistan, from the former British-ruled Sudan, Moslems, Buddhists, Christians, Communists, Neutralists, anti-Communists.

It could be a shapeless, awkward talkfest of little significance and less results except for one thing.

Red China is coming to the meeting, led by her foreign minister, Chou En-Lai.

ON TRIAL?

And Chou is going to try to put the United States and its foreign policy on trial before these African and Asian nations.

He will seek to convince them that America wants to oppress the dark-skinned races. He will charge the United States with aggression. He will seek to set a tide of anti-Americanism running.

Blocking him and defending the United States will be nations like the Philippines and Japan. Sitting in the middle will be the so-called "neutralist" bloc led by India.

It will be noteworthy whether Red China receives deference here. Chou naturally will be in the limelight, leading a huge delegation to Communist China's first real international conference. At his side will be the wily Ho Chi Minh, victorious Communist chieftain in Indo-China.

India's Jawaharlal Nehru will be the best known of the world's statesmen here.

It was India and the host nation, Indonesia, who were primarily responsible for the conference. The attending nations have one thing in common: a hatred of colonialism. The initial idea was to discuss colonialism, economic development of the Afro-Asian area, how it could contribute to world peace.

Indo-China Revolt Fails To Materialize

Saigon Still Verges on Panic

SAIGON, Indo-China (UP) — French troops guarding key installations maintained calm in this tense Viet Nam capital today despite threats by a religious sect of ex-river pirates to destroy the city.

The Binh Xuyen sect said if Premier Ngo Dinh Diem "wants war he'll have it" but the French kept a safety curtain between the rebellious group and government troops and an expected flareup failed to materialize.

NEW BLOCKADE

But the calm was accompanied by signs of a new partial blockade which has almost deprived the big central markets of their meat and fish supplies. Prices for meat mounted steadily but there was still plenty of rice.

The city was close to panic Wednesday night and the suburban population streamed into the centre of the city from the area around the Binh Xuyen stronghold near Cholon, Saigon's predominantly Chinese twin city.

BAO DAI APPEALS

Police and government officials tried to persuade the panicky suburbanites to return to their homes, but order was not restored until news spread that absentee Emperor Bao Dai had appealed to both Diem and the rebels to extend their uneasy truce until April 20.

Police made systematic searches for dangerous elements and hidden arms throughout the city.

The French troops were ordered into action by Gen. Paul Ely, the French commissioner, at expiration of a truce he won with Gen. J. Lawton Collins, President Eisenhower's personal representative in Indo-China.

Esquimalt Contented With Library Costs

Receipt of Grant Makes Borrowing Unnecessary; Road Strip By-Law Approved

Esquimalt Council Tuesday night decided it prefers the present system of municipal cost-sharing for operation of the Greater Victoria Library Board.

Councillors want no part of a board proposal that municipalities pay on a per capita basis.

Such a plan would boost Esquimalt's payment from $8,100 to $19,167.

The existing plan is based on book usage.

The proposal would put library costs above parks and playgrounds, according to Reeve A. C. Wurtele. This year's appropriation for the latter is $7,000.

NO BORROWING

Receipt of $102,418, Esquimalt's share of provincial government grant for 1955, made unnecessary a by-law authorizing the municipality to borrow up to $150,000 for operating expenses until revenue starts coming in from taxes.

In Tuesday night's council session the by-law was rescinded. It would have been the first time in three years that operating monies were not available for the early part of the fiscal year, Reeve A. C. Wurtele said.

WIDER ROAD

Final reading was given to another by-law authorizing the municipality to expropriate a strip of land five feet wide along the east side of Admirals Road for a distance of five properties.

The extra road width is necessary for the current $157,000 Admirals Road rebuilding program, work on which is in its initial stages.

Councillors agreed to the legal formality involved in taking $12,500 from the surplus of 1952's $300,000 public works by-law for construction work on Head Street, in order to complete the job.

ERROR

An error in the wording of the plebiscite voters passed in 1952 made the by-law read "Esquimalt Road" where it should have read "Old Esquimalt Road."

Work is between Esquimalt Road and Old Esquimalt Road. Public notice must be made of the municipal intention to use funds.

Council set April 18-22 as dates for "clean-up week" in Esquimalt and citizens may have refuse hauled away from their homes by public workmen by arranging a pick-up through the engineer's office, 3-4103.

Junk should be placed as close to the street as possible, but not on the pavement so as to impede traffic.

NO BOMBS FOR FAURE

Peaceful Atom France's Goal

PARIS (Reuters) — Premier Edgar Faure said today that France will limit her atomic research to peaceful and industrial purposes and will not seek to produce an atomic bomb.

Faure told a press conference:

"My government has decided to eliminate research for military uses of atomic pwer."

Asked if this meant France has abandoned the idea of producing a hydrogen bomb, the premier declared: "We do not propose to produce any atomic bombs, hydrogen or otherwise."

Faure said his government had adopted two principles of action in regard to atomic power:

1. France must become an atomic power in order to hold her own as a first-class power.

2. France must become a "pacific atomic power." He said the cabinet therefore decided to eliminate research work on the military aspects of atomic power and to concentrate on its peaceful aspects.

The news that France would not attempt to produce any atomic bombs startled nearly 90 correspondents at Faure's conference. Last month the premier said it was essential that France become an atomic power.

He let it be clearly understood then that either on her own or in co-operation with other European countries she would set about to include atomic weapons in her military armory just as Britain has done.

Faure did not disclose what had caused the apparent change in the government's position.

'Measured Retaliation' Policy Favored by Lester Pearson

PRINCETON, N.J. (UP) — The Hon. Lester Pearson, Canada's secretary of state for external affairs, spoke out Tuesday for "reasonable and measured retaliation" in all types of warfare.

Of nuclear weapons, the statesman said, "instead of destroying humanity, they may destroy war," in an address at Princeton University.

In the first of three lectures he will give here under the Stafford little lecture program, Pearson said, "if force is used against you, it does not necessitate using more in retaliation than is necessary for the purpose."

Pearson said it is becoming a popular thesis that the destructive power of nuclear weapons may make war less likely "or even unthinkable."

Fourth Church Fire in Ottawa Stirs Hunt for Dangerous 'Bug'

OTTAWA (CP)—Ottawa fire chief John Foote said today a fire-bug is loose in the capital and warned all churches and public institutions to be on guard.

"There is a dangerous pyromaniac at large in this city," the chief said. "We must stop him and we must do it quickly."

The chief's warning, issued through the office of Mayor Charlotte Whitton, followed the discovery Tuesday night of an attempt to set fire to Christ Church cathedral, largest Anglican church in the city. Newspapers set alight in a hall cupboard burned themselves out before doing any damage.

Simultaneously with the chief's warning, police laid plans for special fire-bug patrols.

Fire officials, engaged in an intensive investigation of fire outbreaks in three other churches in recent weeks, warned that a civilian armed with a stolen fire department inspection book, is known to be making calls posing as a fire inspector. They were not certain whether this man is connected with the recent fires.

On Easter Sunday, a stubborn, 7½-hour fire did $300,000 damage to Chalmers United Church.

GEE OUSTER BUCKED BY UNIONIST RALLIES

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers began organizing protest meetings today in support of ousted business agent George Gee.

First meeting of the Local 213 workers was held this morning at the Electrical Workers' hall in Vancouver. The meetings, called by shop stewards, are legal under the union constitution, a labor source said.

Gee, who was fired by the B.C. Electric Tuesday after being expelled from the union for alleged Communist activity, said he planned court action.

SETS RECORD STRAIGHT

Just One Trotskyist Got Cameron's Help

NANAIMO (CP)—Colin Cameron, CCF member of Parliament for Nanaimo, said Tuesday he had urged Ontario CCF officials to proceed cautiously in the case of only one of the 14 persons expelled from the party for being members of a Communist-Trotskyist organization.

Commenting on a story in a Toronto newspaper that he had urged CCF officials "not to take any hasty action on the matter," Mr. Cameron said he had advised against acting hastily only in the case of Paddy Stanton of Toronto, former Vancouver shipyard worker whom he knew as a CCF member in good standing.

"I had nothing to say about the otner 13 whom I did not know," Mr. Cameron said.

Referring to newspaper reports that a "definitely Communist" organization known as "Box 16" had been trying for a year to disrupt the CCF in B.C. with anonymous letters, Mr. Cameron said:

"I have only seen one of those reports. It criticized the party executive in B.C. for their handling of the Rod Young case."

Mr. Young was expelled from the party in British Columbia for stating he was "proud to be called a Communist", at a public meeting in Vancouver.

MINISTERS ACCEPT ALI'S WIFE

Pakistan Women Call For End to Polygamy

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Prime Minister Mohammed Ali's marriage to a Canadian as his second wife has provoked a demand from 20 of Karachi's most prominent women that his government outlaw polygamy.

They issued a joint statement Tuesday urging Pakistani women to "safeguard their rights." Although the Koran permits Moslem men to have as many as four wives under certain circumstances, they asserted, it does not condone multiple marriage for all Moslem husbands.

Heading the signers were begum Siddiqchaudhri, wife of the Pakistan navy's commander-in-chief, begum Aziz Ahmadan, wife of the cabinet secretary, and begum Nazir Ahmad, wife of the chairman of the tariff commission.

Mohammed Ali married Alya Saddy, his Canadian-born social secretary, April 2. He's 46 and she's 28. He already had a wife, Hamida, 40, the mother of his two sons. Both wives now are living in the prime minister's home in Karachi. The new wife, a former Edmonton resident, has been recognized and received by all her husband's government colleagues.

VHS May Start New Handyman Course in Fall

A new handyman course, a supplementary or alternative course to specialized technical training, may get underway at Victoria High School this fall.

Final approval still has to be obtained from provincial education department officials.

Named industrial mechanics, the course aims at training youngsters in modern, quick methods of doing things, with new materials in home or industry, according to an education official.

A Vancouver school official described the course, which is also contemplated there, as a "sort-of-do-it-yourself" training.

It is hoped it will enable boys who are not academically brilliant to gain elementary skills. Other youths who plan to major in agriculture or forestry which would require some mechanical knowledge could also profit from the course.

Where vocational training and industrial arts courses specialize in one trade or group of trades the new course would teach some painting, plumbing, carpentry, metalwork and electricity.

Harris Warns a Friend

THE HARRIS BUDGET, NOW that its full text is available, can be recognized as an international as well as a domestic document. It is beamed at the American as well as the Canadian people. And it warns the United States, with friendly candor, that the present protectionist drive in the Congress could have dangerous results to the economy of North America.

Not since the days of Fordney-McCumber and Smoot-Hawley has a Canadian Government spokesman talked in Mr. Harris' blunt terms to our neighbors. His words are guarded in the convention of state papers but their meaning is clear. He says that no nation has played a larger part than the United States in expanding world trade since the war, but "in the last twelve months, while there was no basic change in American policies, there was a disappointing lack of progress toward actual reduction in trade barriers and there were disconcerting signs of a revival of protectionist feeling in response to the increase in competitive conditions."

Canada, Mr. Harris goes on, welcomes the efforts of the Eisenhower Government to liberalize trade but he remarks, in a masterpiece of understatement, that these efforts have not been uniformly successful. Then comes the final warning:

"It must be recognized that actions taken or even implied by the Government of the United States may weaken support for liberal commercial policies and may impose upon those of us who are firm supporters of such policies a greater burden in defending them in our own countries. One country cannot attempt to get the maximum benefit at the cost of the minimum adjustments without creating a desire in other countries to achieve the same results. There must be a reasonable give and take in any durable trade relationship."

It is to be hoped that the American Congress will read that passage and ponder it. Mr. Harris is telling the United States that in the end a successful protectionist drive in Washington would produce a parallel drive in Ottawa. He is saying, in plain terms, that the Canadian Government has resisted trade restrictions more successfully than any government in the world, that Canada has profited by this policy but that it may become politically impossible if the United States pulls the props from under it.

Historically that has always been true. Canadian tariff policy—by the nature of our geography and the structure of our exporting economy—must be largely a reaction to American policy. Almost invariably our tariff has gone up in retaliation against high American tariffs, and down when the Americans were willing to trade abundantly.

As Mr. Harris frankly indicates, this is not only an economic but a political problem in Canada, and the political problem of the St. Laurent Government will grow, is indeed already growing, when the Canadian people watch the saboteurs of trade at work in the Congress.

The burden of defending a low-tariff policy in Canada, Mr. Harris says, must be increased by protectionist action, or even the threat of it, in Washington. He could go further and say, as he undoubtedly must realize, that this burden could become unsupportable politically in Canada if the protectionists of the Republican Party finally defeated the President in the critical contest now under way.

The Canadian Government, knowing that this country has achieved unprecedented prosperity by an unprecedented volume of trade, is doing nothing to aggravate the President's problem. It rejects the current protectionist pressure of some Canadian industries, especially in the clear test case of woollens. It is not raising, and in minor fields has reduced, the Canadian tariff. Will the American Congress follow that sound example? Will it realize that Canada, the United States' largest foreign customer, is growing alarmed and impatient? Will it read Mr. Harris' warning from a friend?

'One of the Greatest Events'

RELEASE OF THE REPORT ON Salk polio vaccine has brought hope to millions who harbored private fears for the health of themselves and their families. Now, apparently, at one brilliant stroke a vile and dangerous disease has received its death blow.

The layman will not worry too much about the process by which the new discovery, a vaccine of dead polio virus, excites the blood to produce its own anti-body protection. Nor will the public dwell long on the extended research and inspired endeavour which has produced the preventive. But tacitly or otherwise the world will give thanks to Dr. Jonas E. Salk, who developed the vaccine, and to a host of nameless scientists and workers who helped in the great achievement. The American Medical Association has rightly called it "one of the greatest events in the history of medicine."

It was in the tradition and method of true science that the vaccine should have been viewed with caution from the start. Tests involving nearly two million children were initiated and more than a year elapsed before the findings were made public. But the proof is indisputable, the doubts have been stilled, and the world can acclaim a major triumph in the age-old battle against disease and death.

The present victory is particularly welcome inasmuch as polio has been such a terrible scourge among little children. To have conquered this destroyer which so often left twisted limbs and lifelong heartache in its wake is indeed a victory.

Mass production of the vaccine will now begin in earnest—work in which Canadian laboratories have played and will play an important part—and the day should not be far distant when it can be truly claimed that polio has disappeared.

Ended in Theory and in Fact

RUSSIA HAS SCRAPPED ITS treaties of friendship and alliance with Britain and France, as the Kremlin some months ago threatened to do. The move is in retaliation against the West's action in deciding to rearm West Germany—a defense measure that was hampered but not halted by Soviet warnings.

The treaties with Russia were negotiated during the war years and formalized natural relationships between countries at war against a common enemy. But with the onset of the cold war between East and West, the treaties of "friendship" became little more than souvenirs of an alliance that had flourished temporarily. Thus with their denunciation little has been lost. The basic relations between the countries have not been changed by this latest demarche, since the treaties had ceased to reflect them.

In abandoning the treaties Russia charges Britain and France with breaking their terms. By the Soviet version ratification of the Paris pacts which will restore West German sovereignty and rearm the republic constituted a violation of the agreement with Russia. Moscow, of course, views the western European defensive grouping as aimed at Russia. In fact, it is aimed at any aggressor—which leaves the initiative up to the Soviet.

If it is to be considered that Britain and France have forfeited their risky promises from Russia in exchange for firm promises from their NATO allies—for this in effect is the net result of the Soviet action—then there can be no question that their position has been strengthened.

The Eye, the Ear and the Wallet

FOLLOWING A SPECTACULAR political show on television last year, thoughtful analysts gave further attention to the impact of that medium. One of them emphasized the fact that TV allowed the person appearing before it to present himself on his own terms.

The manner in which that practice could be abused is obvious. For instance, if a thoroughly worthless person, a detriment to society, mastered lines written by a skilful writer, submitted to the ministrations of a good make-up man and succeeded in presenting an attractive personal appearance—and if no one pointed out what a worthless character he was—he could make an immense impression on untold television viewers. Mr. Hyde could be Dr. Jekyll anytime he stepped before the cameras.

To this danger is added another. According to reliable authorities, a five-minute TV program in the United States cost $200 during the cheapest daytime hours. On Sunday evening the rate may go up to $800 for five minutes and network hookups run between $30,000 and $50,000 an hour. Some "spectaculars" have cost as much as $300,000.

With the national political campaign coming up in the United States next year, television is going to be used widely by candidates seeking to purchase good opinions in the eyes of men. The purchase price is steep, so steep that it invites a serious risk. What concessions will a candidate of modest means make to an "angel" who is prepared to pick up the chit in appreciation for certain considerations?

New Man at the Wicket

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

FOR many weeks there has rested on my desk a newspaper photograph of Lady Docker standing beside her gold-trimmed motor car. Lady Docker, you will recall, is the wife of Sir Bernard Docker, who makes cars and money. Nothing wrong with making either, really. It is Lady Docker who feels that if you're pretty well fixed for money, it is your duty to live a life of some display, "to cheer up the rest of the citizenry." Nothing wrong with that theory either, really. Or, if there is anything wrong with it, one must still admire her lack of stuffiness. Nothing la-di-da about Lady Docker . . . unless she sometimes puts on a little of the la-di-da and clowns it on purpose, to cheer us up.

Brock

NO, my only objection is to the idea that a gold-trimmed car is the best one can do in putting on a display. Or in having fun. If I were a missionary of Lady Docker's type, anxious to spread good tidings about the gold-trimmed life, I would either devote a good part of each working day to thinking up really unusual displays, or I would hire an Idea Man. Or both, because many an Idea Man is not very good on his own; you have to nudge him and prime him and fuel him and so on . . . I have met Idea men who were only too like the semi-diesel engine, which needs to be heated by blow-torches before it will start.

WHEN I am a multi-missionaire, some of my cars are going to be Quite Something. One of them, I think, is going to have a special gun mounted in front; it will shoot over-ripe tomatoes at policemen and other pedestrians who deliberately hinder traffic by loitering impudently in the crosswalks. (The other day in a certain British Columbia city a policeman saw he had annoyed me by strolling too slowly across my bow, so he stopped, yawned, turned, and strolled past again in the other direction, pausing to scratch himself en route.)

Some of my cars will have rams, like the battleships of 1900. I will ram other vehicles only when they are in the wrong, of course. The expense of a collision would be nothing to me, but only the duty of ramming an offender would tempt me to damage the costly and unique figurehead on my car, carved by Epstein or Picasso or Henry Moore. Henry Moore is going to carve me a figurehead with big holes in it, so I can see through it while driving.

THE tail-fins of my car will be a hundred feet long, affording ample space for pictures. Painters will be painting on them every night, and the art of the painter of carriage panels will revive. It may even produce a second Vermeer. Vermeer learnt a trick or two from the carriage painters. (I mean a third Vermeer, of course. Ten years ago there was a man so gifted he could paint fake Vermeers that were an expert's dream. So the experts put him in prison, where he died.) And one day, greatly daring, I'll drive out in a car that has no tail-fin at all, and the populace will rub its eyes and say "Gee, it must be great to be so rich you can do what you like. Boy, look at that car, it's dynamite, it has no tail-fin, how's that for engineering?"

BUT cars, even cars with orchids growing in their planting areas, will be the very least of my displays. I shall often take the air riding on an elephant richly caparisoned with cloth of gold on which emeralds and rubies are stitched. I don't know about an elephant with a jewel in his navel, but I shall ask. No harm in asking. On my head will be peacock feathers and round my shoulders the skin of a snow-leopard. No, the skin of an Abominable Snowman, or Yeti. I am going to have fun, I can see it from here. And so are you, my dear populace and citizenry.

There are, however, other ways in which the wealthy can soothe me and cheer me up. I find it very up-cheering when I behold a rich man with the same troubles I've got. When his wife bullies him or his children belittle him or his only tobacco pipe falls overboard, I say to myself "Ha! not even 10 flights of marble staircases can save him from this." Not that my wife bullies me much, but you follow my argument and I hope she does too . . . she reads this stuff. Edits it after it's printed.

ONE of the nicest things I ever saw in a stately home had very little in common with a gold motor car. The house of Mr. George Eumorfopoulos at No. 7 Chelsea Embankment, in London, was open to the public in aid of some charity or other. As a fully paid-up member of the public I went to have a look. The house contained not only priceless objects of Oriental art but modern treasures as well . . . for example, there were paintings by Matisse, Picasso, Braque, Dufy, Gauguin, Modigliani, Vlaminck, Guevara, Matthew Smith, Stanley Spencer, and I forget who else. And there was some sculpture by Epstein and others. On the floors were Oriental rugs that were no doubt priceless. But what interested me and pleased me best was to see the big holes in the dining room rugs. Huge holes. Ragged holes, some of them as big as a plate. Even quite a sure-footed elephant could easily trip on one of those holes and break his neck.

And any time some member of my family tells me something in my house is shabby or broken, I just laugh, for I remember that Mr. Eumorfopoulos had holes in his dining room rugs. Lots of holes.

A DOLLAR TO START

First please let me thank you for your generous gift to the Solarium. It was a beautiful thought on your part in trying to help others who cannot help themselves.

It gives a grand and glorious feeling to the heart of the giver, to know he did his part.

I would like you to open a fund through your daily paper asking those who were unable to give on the day of the swim—which must have been a great dissappointment to the swimmer.

So please ask everybody who can to send a one dollar bill to the Solarium Fund. I enclose one dollar for a starter and I will send another when our friend has crossed the strait.

PROVINCIAL SALES TAX ON AUTOS

I notice by press reports that a Regina Construction Co. is suing the Saskatchewan Government for illegal imposition of indirect Customs and excise tax on goods purchased outside the Province of Saskatchewan and brought into that province by the Company.

Possibly few are aware that under the B.N.A. Act no province has the right to collect such a tax, even by way of sales tax. In this Province of B.C. the Provincial Government has and does try to collect taxes on automobiles brought into this Province and they have no legal right to do so under the B.N.A. Act, as in so doing the Provincial Act becomes ultra vires of the B.N.A. Act.

Only the Federal Government has the right to collect customs and excise taxes, and the imposition of our Provincial Sales tax on such goods coming into this Province, when so collected on such goods, is nothing short of another customs and excise tax. The imposition of a Provincial Sales tax on such goods could well be termed an interference with free admission of goods into our Province and might also be classed as restraint of trade.

It could make a nice legal test case in B.C.

ATTLEE MEETING

I regret that certain Canadian politicians have criticized Mr. Attlee for touring Canada under the sponsorship of the CCF.

The CCF is proud to sponsor Mr. Attlee and to make it possible for all Canadians to hear him. It is for that reason that the committee in charge in Victoria have rented the Arena so that there will be accommodation for as many as possible.

People from all walks of life and of all political persuasions have reserved seats to hear this outstanding British and world statesman. Many who oppose the CCF and the British Labor party politically have expressed their appreciation to the CCF and the local labor organizations which have made possible this visit to Victoria.

Mr. Attlee has served 34 years in the British House of Commons, six of them as prime minister. In this period his contribution to public affairs in Britain and in the international field has been recognized by all parties and nations.

The committee has reserved all seats in the Arena and on Monday, April 18, at 8 p.m. the seats and benches of the Memorial Arena will be crowded with men and women gathered to nonor a man whose sincerity, devotion, and greatness they recognize even if they do not support his political faith.

TRIAL-HARBOR RACE?

I wish to add my congratulations to Mr. Thomas on his swim from Trial Island to the Inner Harbour.

The occasion brought to mind the annual long distance swim held at the C.N.E. at Toronto. Wouldn't a similar race from Trial Island to the Inner Harbor add much to Victoria's 24th of May celebrations?

HELP FOR ASIA

Thank you for your recent editorial "Not Down the Drain." Yes, it is essential that we help the people of Asia and anywhere else, not only in emergencies but on the basis, to enable them to help themselves.

We Canadians are doing this under the Colombo Plan and it is being done by UNESCO as well as by individual countries—example, Norway took trawlers etc. to India and instructors, to improve fishing. I heard an Indian thank them and Norway's "reply": "We were helped under the Marshall Plan and we are returning that help by helping others."

A strong solidly united defense in Asia (as well as Europe) is equally essential. One without the other is fatal.

OFFENSIVE

The current articles re Princess Margaret originating in American sources and written in American jargon are offensive. They also create a widespread disrespect for the Royal family, and, which is much more important, for our British connection.

We expect editors, who are presumed to be gentlemen of good taste to exercise some discrimination in the type of news they print.

After all, a large number of your readers prefer good English and a reasonable respect for the conventions at least.

A Straight Look at Quemoy

From The New York Times

AT THE end of last week, as William S. White wrote for this newspaper: "The president did not know and could not yet know whether he would intervene militarily if the Communists attacked Quemoy and Matsu, just off the China mainland."

We believe Mr. Eisenhower is honestly puzzled. We also have to admit that his puzzlement is based on a wider knowledge of soldiering and considerably more inside information than the rest of us possess. However, these considerations should not prevent the public from speculating as to the Far Eastern situation and making up its own mind as to certain phases of that situation.

Let us therefore try to draw up a kind of balance sheet as to Quemoy and Matsu. In the first place, the strategic value of these islands, except as they interfere with traffic going in and out of Amoy and Foochow, is not great.

The second point in favor of retaining freedom of action toward the islands is that morale on Formosa would be weakened if we said we would not defend Quemoy and Matsu. Maybe it would. There are, however, other ways of maintaining morale than by trying to defend territory that is not needed.

HARD TO BELIEVE

In the third place, it is argued that American prestige in Asia would decline if we made another retreat. But it is hard to believe that communism would immediately sweep still-free areas of southeast Asia if we told Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek that he had better draw in his lines a little. These arguments for retaining the islands or for defending them with American lives and at the risk of a great war are too simple. They are almost naive.

Let us consider the arguments against retaining the islands. First, there is a danger that an attempt to retain them by force may produce a big war in which, unless it becomes world-wide and a question of naked survival for the free countries, our allies in the Pacific and in Europe would not support us.

In the second place, if such a war led, as it might, to bombing attacks on the Chinese mainland—even though by some miracle the bombs actually hit only the "pin points" at which they were aimed—we would kill countless numbers of innocent persons. Would this not—inevitably, we might say rightly—alienate the multitudinous millions of Asians who are ready enough to believe evil things of the United States? It seems to this newspaper that this risk is too great to be run.

WHAT SOLUTION?

What sort of solution can we find? It would be possible, surely, to evacuate the Quemoy and Matsu island groups. Simultaneously with this action or preceding it, we could give a new guarantee to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek for the defense of Formosa, and we might induce our allies in the Pacific and Western Europe to join us in this guarantee.

Finally—and this is crucially important—we might push for United Nations action, already pending, to guarantee a cease-fire in the Formosa Strait. If the Security Council would not give such a guarantee—and presumably it would not, because of a Soviet veto—then there could easily be a special session of the Assembly in which there could be a two-thirds vote for the moral commitment of the United Nations.

While this was going on we could increase our aid to Formosa on the understanding that Chiang Kai-shek's government would not attack the mainland. We could put in a force of infantry as a token of our intentions. Surely the visible signs of American aid—and possibly of United Nations aid—would reassure the Formosan population.

The oriental tradition of "face" is not really oriental—it is human. If we say to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek that we and our friends will do our best to make Formosa a prosperous and democratic state, if we say again that we will defend it against its enemies, surely we give Chiang's government the "face" it needs.

It is time for ourselves and for our friends on Formosa to face the facts. Communist China at this moment cannot be conquered from Formosa. The essential task is to keep the spark of freedom alive on Formosa and to fan it into greater vitality. When that task is viewed in its right proportion the Quemoy and Matsu Islands shrink to what they are—inconsequential heaps of rock and soil not worth the shedding of blood or the risk of world-wide catastrophe.

Blockbuster Misused

Christian Science Monitor

The very argument used by a few in America that an attack by the Communists against the Quemoy and Matsu islands would afford an opportunity to "destroy the military potential" of Red China is regarded with abhorrence by most Europeans and almost all Asians. To them this is like using a block buster to repel a raid on a corner newsstand. And the "military potential" to be destroyed (along with how many lives?) is also the minute industrial capital on which must be built any future effort to improve one of the lowest national standards of living in the world.

If peace can be preserved by Americans giving some weight to the views of their allies, the result in this instance will be not only a NATO strengthened against further tests but also a stronger American moral, legal, and military position in its pledged defense of Formosa.

The Challenge of Fuca

Behind her cold exterior
You'll find her not inferior,
As to what it takes to challenge
Mortal man!

To a combat in the reaches
Out beyond the sheltered beaches,
Where you wrestle with your courage
If you can . . .

Gad! She's fancy-free and frigid
And she's weather-wise and rigid,
As she grips you in her tidal
Toiling arms.

To embrace you and to face you
And to pace you and to race you,
If you truly care to sample—
Fuca's charms!

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

Covent Garden Color

LONDON — During the past month two Americans have been in London devoting most of their time to hanging around Covent Garden market. They are Alan Jay Lerner and Frederick Loewe and together they form the team that turned out those two hit musicals Brigadoon and Paint Your Wagon. Their interest in Covent Garden is local color because the new one they're working on is a musical version of Pygmalion.

Reyburn

Ambling around the market with the story in mind of the flower girl who was taught to speak and behave like a duchess, they soon got their idea for the opening number. In the bitter cold they overheard a vegetable porter blowing on his numbed hands and saying: "Wouldn't it be luvverly to be warm." So, the new show (it will probably be retitled Lady Liza) will have as its opening a number called Wouldn't It Be Luvverly.

Probable stars for the Broadway production—New York will see it before London does—will be Britisher Julie Andrews, who has had such a triumph in The Boy Friend in New York, and Rex Harrison as Professor Higgins, the part played by Leslie Howard in the movie. Rex Harrison will sing, which will be something new for him. And that famous Pygmalion word will be kept in the script!

THE RECENT LIFTING by Chancellor of the Exchequer Butler of restrictions on buying things by instalments caused people to go on a never-never spree. (They call instalment buying the never-never plan here.) So, to curb all this living on credit, Butler ruled that a purchaser must put down a deposit of 15 per cent.

But sharp boys in business have found a way to get round that for their customers. They've made deals with money lenders who will advance the cost of the deposit and the purchaser can pay that off by instalments, too. Now Butler has to go to work and think up a way of blocking that practice.

THE PEOPLE who run the Edinburgh Festival (it's Aug. 21 to Sept. 10 this year) have rapped the Times on the knuckles for saying they had a loss last year of $150,000. They say: "No one in his senses would say that he had 'lost' a pound on a first-class meal; the meal 'cost' him a pound. While you lose money on a horse the cost of the meal reflects the value in terms of nourishment that can be enjoyed for a period. We should think of that money as the 'cost' of the festival—an investment which will be apparent whenever the name of Edinburgh is mentioned for many years to come."

THE MONGREL is dying out in Britain, according to dog experts. Reason: improved living conditions have turned people into dog snobs; they like to have the best dogs they can afford, just as they want television sets and good furniture.

UP THERE IN SCOTLAND they've got 164 million gallons of whisky in stock. They've never had so much since pre-war days. Season just finished was the best distilling season in living memory. But although distillers last year exported almost twice as much Scotch as in 1939, Britons consumed only about two-thirds of what they did pre-war. It's the price of a "nip" that makes them hold back. To a visiting North American the average pub price of 30 cents seems a bargain but most Britons regard it as a too expensive habit.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

New Drugs for Arthritis

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic, and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

Many persons are excited since they have heard of some new cortisone-like drugs for the relief of arthritis and rheumatism. Reports thus far indicate that at least two are promising, but, as yet, experts are speaking cautiously. They want a little more time in which to get acquainted with them, and to learn how to use them, and how to avoid possible unpleasant reactions and side-effects.

The mixture of these new drugs, which appear to be more powerful than cortisone, gives us physicians hope that even better ones will soon come out of the laboratories. Two very powerful drugs of this type that were recently found soon proved to be almost useless in medicine because they produced so much retention of water in the tissues.

DETECTION BEFORE SYMPTOMS

In a recent article, Drs. C. R. Hitchcock and J. Bradley Aust, of the University of Minnesota, reported the results of 6½ years of work in a cancer dettection centre. They say, truly, that if one waits to go and get a diagnosis of cancer until one has symptoms or signs of the disease one has only a 40 per cent chance of getting cured. About the only way in which a man or woman past middle age can avoid dying of cancer is to keep getting examined every year or so. Interesting is the fact that during the 16,417 examinations made of 6,754 persons, 147 cases of cancer were found. This is an incidence of 2.2 per cent per patient.

Sixty-eight of the 147 persons found to have cancer were perfectly comfortable, and without symptoms. In 79 cases the patient had some symptoms suggesting the possibility that he or she might have cancer somewhere.

To me, the most interesting facts are that 67 per cent of the patients who had no symptoms from a cancer of the stomach are now alive and well five years after operation, but only 20 per cent of patients with gastric cancer who had symptoms are still alive. Similarly, of 18 patients who had a cancer of the colon, without any symptoms, 95 per cent are still living and well, whereas only 38 per cent of the patients who were having symptoms from their cancer are living.

Of the total group examined, 28 per cent were found to have what we physicians call a pre-cancerous lesion. This means an ulcer or a tumor which is on its way to becoming cancerous. Obviously, the thing to do is to find and get rid of such a lesion before it becomes a cancer.

REMARKABLE NEW CHEMICAL

Drs. Carlos Miller, Folk Skoog, von Saltza, and F. M. Strong have recently isolated a substance which they call kinetin. In an extremely minute dosage, it will start up growth in plant tissue cells which has long since stopped growing.

It looks now as if this remarkable substance might help researchers to find a cure for cancer. What must be done is to find a chemical so closely resembling kinetin that cells will accept it as food, and later—too late—will find that it is of no use to them. Already several drugs that slow the growth of cancers have been designed according to this plan.

NOT TOO COSTLY

Several persons have written to say that it is stupid or sardonic of us doctors to keep saying that after 40 a person would do well to have a yearly check-up examination. As these people say, in the first place, it is hard to find a physician who can or will take the time to make a good examination or who has the skill to make a thorough and adequate examination; and in the second place it is hard to find a man who knows how to keep the cost within reach of the average man's purse.

The other day, when an old patient asked me where in New York City, he can get a reasonably priced medical examination I got in touch with my old friend, Dr. George Baehr, who for years has been greatly interested in problems of supplying medicine to people for a reasonable fee. Dr. Baehr wrote me that in New York City are four diagnostic services. In three, the fee is $50, $60 and $65 respectively. In the fourth, a basic charge of $10 is made for a physical check-up, and X-ray studies are charged for extra. In two of the services the patient must be referred by a physician, but in the other two he does not have to go through this formality, which will only cost him more time and money.

I imagine that similar services can be found in some of the other large cities. Their address can doubtless be obtained through the office of the local medical society.

B.C. Termed Hotbed Of Red-Led Unions

Organizer Says Communists Have More Control Here Than Anywhere in Canada

By AB KENT

British Columbia has more communist-controlled unions than any other province in Canada, a national union organizer said in an iterview here Tuesday.

Speaker was John M. Stirling, business agent for the National Association of Government Seafarers, Wharf and Yard Employees, who last week was branded by Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council as a "henchman" of Hal C. Banks, leader of the Seamen's International Union, Canadian district.

(Banks was labelled a "gangster" because of a criminal record in the U.S. and Canada, and the labor council asked its parent body, the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, to investigate him with a view to starting deportation proceedings.)

BANKS ANTI-RED

"There are more red-controlled unions in B.C., in my opinion, than anywhere in Canada," Stirling said. "Hal Banks is anti-red. Naturally there is going to be rebuke."

Stirling emphasized he is not an organizer for the SIU, but rather a Civil Service Federation organizer, and produced a document from CSF president F. W. Whitehouse authorizing him "to enroll or establish contact with non-members of any affiliates (of the CSF)."

Since his arrival here six weeks ago, Stirling has organized a local union of the NAGSWYE, whose parent body is the 90,000-strong Civil Service Federation.

(The SIU is affiliated with the TLC, although the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council refuses to recognize it.)

Through their organization, government seamen, of which there are about 100 now members of the Victoria local, gain check-off authorization for union dues and the right to established grievance procedure.

SIU STRONGEST

"The federal government seafarers' association is a federal government employees' association of the Civil Service Federation of Canada," Stirling said, "and it is affiliated with the SIU because we think the SIU is the strongest, largest seamen's union in Canada.

"As for myself, this business of being a henchman of Hal Banks—I've met Hal Banks twice, that's all. I'm a Civil Service Federation organizer, not an SIU organizer."

He went on: "The main object of affiliating with the SIU was that government seafarers are paid prevailing rates, and as the SIU is the biggest seaman's union in Canada, then it is the union which actually sets the rates of pay for government seamen.

"When we, as a government employees' association present a brief to Ottawa we must prove that our requests are justified with regard to any condition or standard in private industry.

"Then we call on the SIU as an affiliate to present a brief to the government showing their rates of pay and conditions, which are at present above NAGSWYE rates."

He said he expects to sign up about 150 men from HMC Dockyard, civilian seamen on harbor craft of the Canadian Naval Auxiliary Vessel fleet.

Other government departments from which membership will be gained, he said, are fisheries, department of national defense, mines and technical srvices, public works and department of transport.

Federal Budget Will Stimulate Employment, Says Pickersgill

The federal budget presented to the House of Commons last week is bound to be a stimulus to employment, Hon. J. W. Pickersgill, minister of immigration, told a public meeting Tuesday night in Oak Bay School auditorium.

"There may be a time when that stimulus has to be boosted," Mr. Pickersgill told his audience of about 200, "but it (the budget) has put more money into the pockets of people to spend and must have its effect."

Reviewing the economic history of the last three decades in a brief but comprehensive survey, the federal minister said Canada had enjoyed 10 years of growth greater than any before in its history—a growth that saw great expansion in population and national production.

WEARING OFF

The impetus of this was seen to be wearing off last summer, he said, and it was recognized it was becoming a time to take a new look at Canada's economy.

"There was and is nothing really wrong," Mr. Pickersgill said, "but a need was seen to get up-to-date."

It was recognized by his colleagues, said the minister, "that no government which permitted large numbers of Canadians to be unemployed for long periods of time deserved to remain in office."

The current budget he cited as one measure to meet the immediate situation by encouraging employment from three of its four main sources, exports, domestic consumption of Canadian goods and services and private investment.

The fourth great source of employment was government spending, Mr. Pickersgill said. This should be planned to keep pace with the need. In times of expansion, government spending would be kept down. It should be increased during time of recession.

The speaker denied that Finance Minister Walter Harris announcement of a proposed Royal Commission on Economics was in line with the popular conception—that when a government had a problem on its hands it could not itself dispose of, it consigned it to the oubliette of a commission.

The body to be appointed would be charged with the task of looking at Canada's future; to decide what the right lines of development would seem to be; what the extent of resources really is, what is needed to learn about them and what is needed in the way of population and how to get it.

Mr. Pickersgill said he had no doubt as to the last issue:

"The best way for Canada to get population is by the cradle," he said. "No immigrant, however good he is or wherever he comes from is as good as another Canadian. It is not that we are necessarily better people but we belong here and our children will inevitably be able to adapt themselves better than one who has lived part of his life in another country."

It was recognized, however, the cradle solution to the population problem was not adequate and the alternative, he said, was selective immigration.

This would be one of the great tasks of the proposed Royal Commission, to arrive at facts and figures of the nation's population needs, to decide what immigrants were best to get and how to get them.

TRIBUTE PAID

The federal minister paid tribute to Victoria as "the most liberal place west of the Rockies", to Hon. Robert Mayhew former MP for Victoria, federal cabinet minister and Ambassador to Japan as one who "by his conduct, career and character has done as much for his country as any man could have done", and to former B.C. Premier Byron I. Johnson for "keeping the real flame of liberalism alive in this province".

Frank T. Fairey, Victoria's sitting member of the Commons, who preceded Mr. Pickersgill on the platform gave a resume of work at the current session of parliament in general, and of his own work on five committees in particular.

Only local subjects he dealt with were the Admirals Road paving in Esquimalt for which the government was providing 75 per cent of the cost, or $114,000, without statutory authority or obligation, and the Point Ellice Bridge for which he said he had been able to get no federal money.

Drunkometer Tests Prove Too Costly Says Mulligan

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver police soon may abandon drunkometer tests for economy reasons.

Chief Walter Mulligan said Tuesday use of the breath-testing apparatus may be abandoned "in view of the number of man hours at present required for its acceptable operation."

He has been asked by council to trim $90,000 from his $3,645,000 budget for 1955

The drunkometer is used to test the alcoholic content of the bloodstream of motorists suspected of impaired or drunken driving.

Lakehead Tanglefoots It's Attlee Program

By WALTER GRAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

FORT WILLIAM (CP)—Clement Attlee, leader of Britain's Labor party, flew into the Lakehead 10 minutes early Tuesday.

It was the beginning of a mild comedy of errors.

A member of the CCF party's welcoming committee said on the way to the airport that it would be a relief when the day was over.

"It's not every day we get such an important person here," he said, and promptly lost his way to the field.

Because the plane arrived early, Fort William's Mayor H. Badanai dashed up to the tarmac to extend the first official welcome just in time to see Mr. Attlee's car leaving.

The five-car motorcade, led by Fort William and Port Arthur police cars, threaded its way through a tangle of traffic to Port Arthur City Hall.

TAKES BACK KEY

There Mayor F. O. Robinson presented Mr. Attlee with a key to the city, then promptly asked for it back: The city didn't have time to have it suitably inscribed.

Returning to Fort William the procession passed a speeding police car which was to have escorted the motorcade to a downtown hotel. The chagrined driver watched as a rival Port Arthur police escort took over his job.

Finally, at a press conference an uninvited guest took over the questioning. Mr. Attlee, M. J. Coldwell, leader of the national CCF party, and Lorne Ingle, national party secretary, all began at once ordering the man to be quiet. But the uninvited guest managed to get a few clipped remarks from the distinguished visitor.

Mr. Attlee said "no one should suggest" that the British government should hand back the nationalized railways and mines to private owners.

"Nationalization has been successful," he said.

URGES RECOGNITION

A strong plea for the recognition of Communist China by the West was made by Mr. Attlee in a speech Tuesday night.

"It is no good turning our resistance to aggression into an anti-Communist crusade," Mr. Attlee told an audience of 1,200 at a public meeting under the sponsorship of the CCF party. "The sooner we can get contacts between the West and China the better."

The former British prime minister, making his first public address in Canada, said he did not believe the relationship between Russia and China was one of "love and affection."

"I think the Russians are afraid of China," he said.

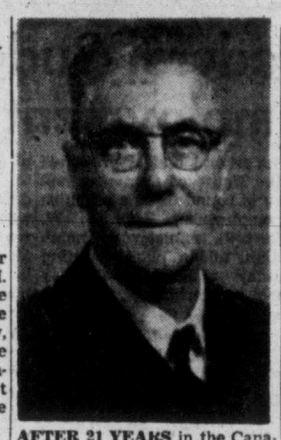
After the meeting the British Labor leader left by train for Regina, where he is scheduled to speak tonight.

Priest Gives FBI $6,850 Of Bank Loot

DENVER (AP)—An unidentified Roman Catholic priest, whose lips are sealed by his vow not to reveal anything heard in the confessional, Tuesday turned over to Federal Bureau of Investigation agents $6,850 he said was part of the loot taken in a Denver bank holdup last February.

Donald E. Kelley, United States district attorney, would not disclose how the priest got the money. From the clergyman's statement, about the seal of the confessional, it was assumed he had obtained it from the robber after hearing his confession.

The bank was robbed of $7,780 in currency Feb. 17 by a short, squint-eyed man, who showed a woman clerk what he said was a bottle of nitroglycerin and threatened to blow up the building if she did not obey his orders.



AFTER 21 YEARS in the Canadian immigration service and four years as chief immigration officer in Victoria, John Dorman, 927 Darwin Road, retired last week. He is a native of County Down, Northern Ireland, and came to Canada in 1911, moving to B.C. in 1934. Mr. Dorman was with the 28th battalion and was captured by the enemy at Ypres in June, 1916. He escaped in February, 1918.

Tallulah's Illness Stops Road Show

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Actress Tallulah Bankhead's sudden illness Tuesday night forced "Dear Charles," the play in which she was appearing at the American Theatre, to be stopped after the first act. A physician said Miss Bankhead was suffering from a gastric upset.

Roll Stabilizers Success on Elizabeth

SOUTHAMPTON (Reuters)—The 83,000-ton liner Queen Elizabeth remained "steady as a rock" in a strong mid-Atlantic storm thanks to recently fitted roll stabilizers, her captain reported Tuesday.

Stewards carried trays of food with ease during the worst of the gale.

Lie Detector To Test Father Of Dead Girl

TORONTO (CP)—The Telegram says William MacLeod, step-father of eight-year-old Judy Catrer whose strangled body was found here Saturday, will take a lie-detector test in Buffalo, N.Y., today.

The paper says MacLeod has volunteered to take the test "in face of disturbing rumors facing him."

Toronto police will be present at the test, the story says.

The body of the little girl, who disappeared six weeks ago, was found on a creek bank at nearby Markham township. She had been strangled with her scarf but not sexually molested.

RUMORS ARE FLYING—Great Britain's Princess Margaret is rumored to be considering Billy Wallace as a possible fiance. A radio commentator claimed that Wallace, step-son of American writer Herbert Agar, would become engaged to the Princess before the summer.

Publisher Charged With Inciting Assassination of Sen. McCarthy

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UP)—The federal court trial of publisher H. M. (Hank) Greenspun begins today on charges he sought to "incite the murder or assassination" of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy in his newspaper, the Las Vegas Sun.

The 45-year-old publisher was indicted by a federal grand jury Jan. 8, 1954. He was charged with violation of postal regulations by causing "to be deposited 874 copies of the Morning Sun which contained non-mailable matter of an indecent character tending to incite murder or assassination.

In his daily column, "Where I Stand," Greenspun wrote "Sen. Joe McCarthy has to come to a violent end. Huey Long's death will be serene and peaceful compared to the demise of the sadistic bum from Wisconsin.

"Live by the sword and you die by the sword. Destroy people and they in turn destroy you," the column continued. "Chances are that McCarthy will eventually be laid to rest at the hands of some poor innocent slob whose reputation and life he had destroyed through his well established smear technique."

Reeve Charges Hospitals Used Unnecessarily

Doctors Said Behind Movement For Institution on Peninsula

SAANICHTON—Hospitals today "are being filled with patients who could be treated in doctors' consulting offices, thus avoiding congestion," Reeve H. Rupert Brown of Central Saanich said at a council meeting Tuesday night.

"I understand there is a terrific amount of that kind of thing going on," he said, and implied an investigation should be made of this practice.

He spoke during the presentation of facts and figures by a Central Saanich Chamber of Commerce delegation relative to the proposed establishment of a 50-bed hospital to serve the peninsula.

TREAT ALL CASES

The delegation, composed of Richard L. Desmond, W. L. Grafton and Dr. Herman B. Wood, sought to show that a hospital catering to convalescents as well as acute cases was a special need in the community.

Delegation spokesmen produced plans of the proposed hospital, explaining that the building would cost $404,000 to build with an additional $74,000 estimated for equipment.

Anticipated grants from federal and provincial governments would amount to $252,250.

Mr. Grafton said that the hospital would cater to some 7,000 people in the district extending from the south boundary of Central Saanich to the end of the peninsula at Swartz Bay. The next move would be to consult with the provincial minister of health, he said.

FAVORED IN SIDNEY

Asked by the reeve as to where the pressure came from for the establishment of such a hospital, Mr. Grafton replied that he understood that it was from medical men practising in the district.

Mr. Desmond asserted the hospital was a definite need and that Sidney was strongly supporting the proposal.

Saanich Fruitgrowers manager J. Doe appealed to council for improvements to Veyaness Road from the fruit shipping depot to a point south of Stelly's Crossroad.

He was informed that regrading of this particular section of road had already been authorized and would be carried out so as not to conflict with the fruit shipping season.

LIGHTING DISPUTED

Residents of West Saanich Road, between Marchants Road and Wallace Drive, petitioned to withdraw from the Brentwood street lighting scheme, but received scant support from council.

Other blocks might petition along the same lines, councillors said, and in the opinion of the reeve it was their privilege to vote against it. Total cost of the lights, it was disclosed, would be $4,100 for 27 luminaries, or $6.25 a year for each property owner.

It was suggested by the reeve and moved by Clr. Harry Peard that the B.C. Electric be asked to submit a firm bid on both lighting scheme and fixtures.

BUDGET DEFERRED

On motion of Clr. Harold Andrew, fire chief Vic Heal will be recommended to the forest ranger to continue as fire prevention officer.

Budget discussion was deferred at the suggestion of the reeve, pending a works committee meeting scheduled for Friday at 2 p.m.

North and South Saanich Agricultural Society acknowledged receipt of a grant of $50.

Victoria Chamber of Commerce received permission to erect signs depicting historic points in the municipality.

PLANNERS HOPE TO MEET IN SECRECY

SAANICHTON — Regional town planning boards apparently seek to join the "secret meeting" trend.

This was disclosed at Central Saanich council Tuesday night when municipal appointments to the regional board were under discussion.

It leaked out that majority opinion favored exclusion of the press at town planning meetings to prevent publication of news before decisions had been submitted to councils.

The recent Beaver Lake findings of the town planners was given as a case in point.

Funeral Thursday For Mrs. Spicer, Former Victorian

DUNCAN — Funeral services will be held Thursday at 11 a.m. at Hirst Funeral Chapel for Mrs. Ada Madeline Mingay Spicer, 69, who died at her home on Khenephin Road Monday.

Born in Toronto, Mrs. Spicer came to Duncan to live three weeks ago from Victoria, where she had resided for many years. She was a member of the Weavers Guild of Victoria.

Mrs. Spicer is survived by her husband, Earl Daniel Spicer; five daughters, Mrs. J. J. Jorgenson, Granum, Alta.; Miss Allisen Madeline Spicer, Edmonton; Mrs. Brian McCooey, Duncan; Miss Josephine Spicer, Vancouver, and Mrs. C. S. Smith, Esquimalt; one brother, Frederick Mingay, Hamilton, Ont., and one sister, Mrs. S. K. Killen, North Burnaby.

Mayor Criticizes Appointment Of Magistrate

NANAIMO—Appointment of E. D. Strongitharm, Nanaimo barrister, as police magistrate during the absence of Magistrate Lionel Beevor-Potts, came in for strong criticism in council Tuesday.

Mayor George Muir said: "I don't like the attorney-general's department making an appointment. They said nothing to us about it."

He said it was not Mr. Strongitharm's appointment, but the fact that the city had not been considered in the matter. "It's not the choice of the man, but the way they did it. We pay the shot and should have been consulted," he said.

Mr. Strongitharm was appointed through an order-in-council to act in the absence of Mr. Beevor-Potts, on holiday from April 10 to April 24.

Sailor Fined

SIDNEY—George Huck, RCN, charged in Sidney police court with taking a car without the owner's consent, was fined $100 by Magistrate F. J. Baker. He was fined an additional $25 for theft of a wallet.

DRIVER ESCAPED INJURY when car above rolled over and crashed on Fulford-Ganges Highway on Salt Spring Island. Leslie Howard, 19, of Ganges, driver and only occupant, suffered only from shock. He was on way to Fulford when accident occurred. (Times photo by G. Young.)

Estimates in Nanaimo Slashed; Budget Still Exceeds Million

NANAIMO—A record-breaking budget prepared by Ald. Mrs. Alan Hall, finance chairman, and her committee, has been slashed by $140,904, but still stands at $1,060,865.

City council on Tuesday pared large sums from streets and water departments which, aldermen said, "will curtail seriously the services which we hoped would be provided this year."

The finance committe said also that "notwithstanding the drastic reduction of some departmental estimates of expenditures, it has also been necessary to increase revenues which we hope to collect from a number of sources. To accomplish this it will be necessary to increase by $48,000 the amount which will be collected through the current tax levy, increase water rates by 50 per cent commencing July 1, and substantially increase cemetery charges."

They said they realized an increase in taxes this year "is inevitable" and that the committee had a survey made to indicate what form the increase should take to give most equitable distribution.

"We have no hesitation in recommending that taxes for other than schools be levied on the full assessed value of the land and 20 per cent on improvements as against 35 per cent last year. Not only does this tend to give equitable distribution of taxes levied for other than school purposes, but also to some extent offsets the inequality of the tax levy for school purposes. School taxes must be levied upon 75 per cent of assessed value of improvements in addition to full assessed value land."

TRIPLED IN 10 YEARS

Ald. R. Fawdry, in introducing the revised budget in the absence of Ald. Hall, said: "I think we in council should be proud to be members during the time of presentation of Nanaimo's first million dollar budget. In five years it had doubled, and in only 10 years it has tripled."

He referred also to the fact that Mayor George Muir, now on his 21st year in council, had watched and helped in "the amazing growth of Nanaimo to become one of the foremost cities in western Canada."

"I wish to take exception, however, to the manner in which capital is being financed out of revenue," he said. He suggested the city should borrow $184,000 and adopt a five-year plan to buy 49,900 feet of water pipe which city engineer A. Leynard estimates will be required in that time.

Ald. Fawdry suggested new home building in new subdivisions should be encouraged by laying water pipe to them, and paving streets "which desperately need it."

He said he is afraid "it will take 15 years to do all that if we try to finance out of revenue." He decried fact that 45 families of the new Boys' Industrial School staff had difficulty in finding homes here.

"How can we justify our Chamber of Commerce suggestion that the new mental hospital be built here to be staffed by 600, when we can't readily now house 45."

Ald. George Bryce bucked the suggestion, saying "I think it would be suicide" and said that "water is more essential to a good city than streets."

Highway travelers were warned in council of the fact that a new four-way traffic control light at the south end of Pearson Bridge will be in operation Wednesday afternoon or Thursday morning. Known as "Suicide Corner," the spot has been scene of several minor accidents since it opened last summer.

DOUBT APPOINTMENT

Town Planning Commission recommended that a town planner be appointed immediately, subject to approval of the city engineer, but the revised budget reveals fact that only $1,500 has been allotted to the commission for this year, which leads to the belief that the city has no intention of making such appointment.

BCPC Rapped For Racket From Dynamo

NANAIMO—B.C. Power Commission came in for some criticism from the city council Tuesday night after a letter from district manager Larry White offered service to the city to aid in bringing new industries to Vancouver Island.

Mayor Muir suggested that instead of offering "attractive rates for power," that the commission do something about cutting out the noise of the auxiliary power plant located on the assembly wharf.

He said the constant roar of the diesel-powered dynamo was giving him plenty of trouble from citizens phoning complaints about the continuous noise.

Several councilmen said they had received complaints, "especially from older people unable to sleep because of the noise."

While the power shortage exists on account of low water levels up-island, it was pointed out nothing can be done about it.

"Only way to stop it," said Ald. W. McGregor, who is employed by the commission, "is to turn off all our lights."

N. Wheatcroft Chairs Nanaimo Planning Board

NANAIMO — Norvel Wheatcroft, local building contractor, was elected chairman of the Town Planning Commission to replace Frank Wilfert Jr., who resigned two weeks ago.

The recreation commission appointed three committees Tuesday to consider availability of suitable recreation centres in Bowen Park, Beban Park and the high school grounds.

Members are S. Dyde, Vince Crawly, D. Stupich, Ted Barsby, J. Hawthornthwaite and D. Sawers.

Friday 'Budget Day' in Duncan; Tax Rate of 43 Mills Expected

DUNCAN—A special meeting has been called for Friday, when the city council will be presented with the budget.

Mayor J. C. Wragg said Tuesday at the regular council meeting that he hoped the tax rate will be on a par with last year's tax of 43 mills.

Mayor Wragg said he and city clerk Gordon Berry had been working on the budget, but at the moment could not get the tax notices out because of staff difficulties.

"I am trying to get it on a par with last year," the mayor said. He told the aldermen that he did not think the taxpayers were looking for a reduction in taxes, "but they do not want an increase." He said he thought the council was doing a good job "and we do not have to take a back seat to anyone."

During the meeting council passed a motion classifying the proposed site of the new building of Cowichan Branch, Canadian Legion, from residential to commercial. Cost of the new building is expected to amount to around $100,000.

A grant of $275 will be made to Duncan Chamber of Commerce, the same as last year.

Frank Tearoe Construction Co. bid of $2,072 for the laying of a concrete sidewalk on the Old Island Highway was accepted. Unsuccessful tenders were from Cowichan Housing, $2,252; A. V. Richardson, $2,208, and Brownsey and Son, $2,689.

Engineers Estimate $65,000 Damage to Cowichan School

DUNCAN—Damage that may cost up to $65,000 to repair has been caused through rotting of timbers under Cowichan High School here.

George E. Bonner, school board chairman, said Tuesday he understood specifications for the timbers called for first-grade fir. Hemlock was used, and it is hemlock timbers that rotted.

Builder of the six-year-old school adjoining the Trans-Canada Highway at James Street was Bennett & White Construction Co. of Vancouver.

DRAINAGE SYSTEM

Estimate of $65,000 to repair the damage was made by Associated Consulting Engineers of Vancouver. Board members consider the cost too high, Mr. Bonner said, although it includes a new drainage system for the low-lying site, ventilation and work on the heating plant.

James Wilson, Victoria, supervisor of school plans for the provincial government, advised a ground seal after inspecting the work Tuesday. Without it, he said, damage would be as great five years from now as at present. The government will pay half the cost of repairs.

The 20-room school cost $700,000 when built.

HERE'S ONE GRIDDER NOT JOINING LIONS

VANCOUVER (BUP) — Rod Pantages will not play with the British Columbia Lions this season, coach Annis Stukus said Tuesday.

Stukus said the Lions had not approached Pantages and that Pantages had not sought a job with the Lions while in Vancouver. Stukus said he would probably line up with the Calgary Stampeders or the Saskatchewan Roughriders.

Pantages played for the Grey Cup champion Edmonton Eskimos last year. This year, the veteran of western football wars was given permission by the Edmonton club to make a deal for himself.

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

Okay, you parents, YOU asked for it!

You asked for something to be done for the graduates of little league baseball.

You suggested that it was "too bad" there was no place for these graduates to go upon completion of their little league activities.

You inferred that this baseball for youngsters was such a grand idea that you'd back any new project to the hilt.

If you don't fall in the above categories, you can turn to the stock reports right now, because we're going to be heard out; not for our sake but on behalf of the kids—the kids who want to play Pony League baseball.

Walker

They're eager, willing and ready. They've got a park to play in and they've got committees working hard to see that they will play baseball this year.

But the parental interest is lacking. It seemingly lies only in the garden. A good place, we'll agree, but try and tell that to the kids.

Specifically the deal is this. There has been a lot of talk, little action, and no action from where it is needed most—the parents.

The committees in charge can't do everything. They've aranged the organization, they've set up the league and they've got the kids a place to play in.

But right now the fellows in charge are a little disconcerted over it all. They've gone back to the parents who asked for this thing called "Pony League Baseball" in the first place. And the response has been negligible.

Twelve Equals 100, or Does It?

At a recent meeting, for example, only a dozen or so interested parents saw their time free to attend on behalf of their kids.

Meanwhile last week when the youngsters were given their vote, over 100 responded, with more registrations still to be accepted this week at times and dates previously published on these pages.

Certainly the youngsters can't run their own league. And certainly the committees who have started the ball rolling and under prompting of supposedly interested parties, can't be expected to shoulder all of the burden.

If you, as an interested parent, don't feel that the project is worthwhile enough to support it yourself, then obviously you wouldn't expect others to do it. Now would you?

Of managers and coaches, the league is well supplied. But for the menial tasks that must accompany any project of this nature, there is a distinct lack of applicants.

Well Why Don't You—Ask the Kids

Sponsorship is another item, if you want the commercial angle. Several organizations have been contacted, but only one—Rotary—has replied in the affirmative.

This can't be done for free. That's certain. But it's not expensive either and without attempting to enter into a discussion period concerning the ideals of sport when compared to delinquency problems, it certainly is value well received.

For $300 a team can be outfitted for three years.

Maybe you haven't got the 300 hogans. No-one suggested you had. But perhaps you know someone who has.

Truth is, you asked for it—Pony League baseball.

Now what are you, the parents, going to do about it?

The league president's name is Jimmy Chow. His phone number is 3-3966. But don't phone him today; he's out of town on other business. Rather if you are interested, and you said you were, show up at the Elks Home on Friday night at 8.

The kids are waiting.

One Wing Not Clipped

For the second straight year, Detroit Red Wings and Montreal Canadiens will go the limit of seven games before the winner of the Stanley Cup is decided. The underdog Canadiens came back to whip Detroit, 6-3, in Montreal Tuesday night, forcing the rubber game at Detroit Thursday night. While it was a losing night for the Wings, it was not so earlier in the series for their Marcel Pronovost. Pronovost, white sweater, watches off-balance as the puck goes into the Montreal net, despite the efforts of Montreal goalie Jacques Plante and defenseman Doug Harvey.

Canadiens Square NHL Final Series

Deciding Game Set Thursday

MONTREAL 6, DETROIT 3
(Series Tied, 3-3)

MONTREAL (CP)—The Stanley Cup series came full cycle again today, with Montreal Canadiens and Detroit Red Wings headed for Detroit and the deciding game of the world's hockey classic.

Tuesday night Canadiens called on some hidden reserve that bowled over the series-favorite Red Wings with a surprising 6-3 trouncing. It was no fluke victory. Coach Jimmy Skinner of the Red Wings said succintly and a bit grimly: "We were beaten; we played lousy hockey.'

So the cycle comes around again. Just a year ago the same teams, tied then as now at three games each, travelled to Detroit for the seventh game. The Red Wings won in overtime, 2-1. The only difference this year is that each team has won all its games on home ice. Last year each won twice on foreign ice.

Coming from behind twice in this series, Canadiens go into Thursday's game at Detroit with buoyed confidence, content to let the Red Wings do the worrying. But to stop the Red Wings on Detroit ice will take more than renewed confidence. The Detroiters haven't been beaten at home this season since Dec. 19. They don't intend to start when it means a difference of $500 to each player.

13 HOME WINS

Since Dec. 19, when Canadiens subdued them 5-0, the Red Wings won 13 National Hockey League schedule games at home and tied five. In the cup semi-final and final they beat Toronto Maple Leafs twice and Canadiens three times.

Canadiens will look to Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion to keep up his scoring pace. The Boomer bagged two of his team's goals Tuesday night and ran his total for semifinal and final to eight, putting him in a tie for the playoffs with Gordie Howe of Detroit.

Geoffrion had lots of help in the Montreal uprising. Jean Beliveau, Jackie Leclair, Floyd Curry and Calum (Baldy) Mackay boosted the Montreal total. Alex Delvecchio outshone his more glamorous scoring mates by sniping two of Detroit's goals. Defenseman Red Kelly bagged the other.

Curry has been the surprise package of Canadiens in the playoffs. The hard-working rightwinger, who took over the spot left vacant by the suspended Maurice (Rocket) Richard, has counted seven goals in all.

Beliveau put Montreal ahead at 7.30 of the opening period with a terrific 50-foot slapshot that whizzed past goalie Terry Sawchuk, whose view was partly blocked by Detroit defenseman Bob Goldham. Delvecchio, a puck hound all night, raced in fast to score on Vic Stasiuk's rebound at 13.36 to pull Detroit into a tie.

Canadiens jumped in with lots of drive when the Wings went short-handed early in the second period. Leclair tipped in Geoffrion's pass-out at 3.45 and Geoffrion lifted in a backhander at 5.21.

WINGS CLOSE GAP

The Wings closed the gap at 15.54 when Ted Lindsay's goal-mouth pass skidded into the net off the skate of Delvecchio, who was parked in front of goalie Jacques Plante.

Geoffrion's second goal — the puck going in off his leg when Beliveau shot—sent the whole Detroit team surging up to referee Red Storey to protest. They claimed Geoffrion kicked the puck in. Storey said no. Sawchuk, came sprinting from his net to join his protesting mates and was given a misconduct penalty. It was served by Glen Skov.

Before the Wings could get going Curry ended their hopes when he took Mackay's pass and rifled in a slapshot with only 19 seconds of the third period gone. The Wings sent all hands up and Kelly blasted in a partly screened shot at 16.23. Then at 18.55, with Howe sprinting back as the lone defender in front of Sawchuk, Mackay took Ken Mosdell's pass and galloped in to score with a backhander.

GUNNERS DUE TODAY FOR MEETING WITH A's

Sault Ste. Marie Gunners, eastern senior basketball champions, were scheduled to arrive in Alberni today for the best-of-five Canadian final opening Thursday.

The visitors, winners over Ottawa Shaffers last week, and the Athletics, who entered the final with a five-game win over Edmonton Towne Hallers, will be playing under an electric time-clock, the first of its kind in Alberni Athletic Hall. The clock was obtained from the University of British Columbia especially for the series.

SECOND PLACE AT STAKE

City to Host Scots Saturday

Victoria City, who missed the first-half Coast Soccer League championship by a narrow margin, resume their efforts to nail down the second-half title Saturday.

City takes on St. Andrews of Vancouver at Athletic Park at 2 and it will be the final appearance here for the Scots on the league schedule.

A victory for City should send them into a second-place tie with New Westminster Royals.

City has not seen Coast League action for three weeks but has kept in trim with a series of local cup and exhibition games.

The Victoria club will be banking heavily on the improving scoring power of centre forward Ken Hibbert, newest member of the club, who has averaged two goals a game in his last three games. Since Hibbert's joining the club, City has been scoring more often, but manager Tommy Restall is somewhat disturbed by the fact his club has been giving up more goals than they did in the first half.

The big guns of the traditionally strong St. Andrews team are their two former Scottish League players, centre forward Dave Swann, league-leading goal-scorer, and team captain Dave Guthrie, at centre half.

West Indies In Fine Stand

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (Reuters)—The torrid partnership of Clyde Walcott and Everton Weekes made a stand of 242 runs for the third wicket Monday as the West Indies went 355 for five in the second day of the second test cricket match with Australia.

Rain and poor light caused play to be cut short by half an hour. By lunchtime Walcott and Weekes had completely tamed the bowling which threatened Monday to blast the batting to pieces as the opening West Indies batsmen were dismissed for 40 runs.

One 10-minute break caused by rain restricted pre-lunch batting to 80 minutes but the duo put on 95 runs in that time. They did well until just before tea when Richie Benaud got Weekes. Soon after tea Benaud also dismissed Walcott.

Weekes scored 139 and Walcott 126.

Rocky Doesn't Scare Cockell—So Says Don

By MURRAY ROSE

DON COCKELL
. . . fears Rocky not

NEW YORK (AP)—"He's no superman. He's got two arms and two legs just like I have. I hope to win the title otherwise I never would have come here."

That's the way England's Don Cockell sized up his coming title fight with heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano in San Francisco May 16.

The pudgy, 217-pound British heavyweight boss arrived Tuesday from England on the Queen Mary, was the guest of honor at press party at a downtown restaurant and then left for San Francisco.

"Marciano is a great champion and he behaves like a champion," said the hog farmer from Horam, Sussex. "If I should win, I only hope I can conduct myself like he does.

SCIENTIFIC FIGHTER

"Many people seem to have the idea that Marciano is crude and rough but I don't see it. He is a scientific fighter. He never throws two punches in the same place. He places his punches correctly and places his weight behind his blows."

Cockell had met Rocky at the signing ceremony here Feb. 15. He never has seen the hard-hitting heavyweight king in a live fight but said he has carefully scanned the movies of Marciano's two fights with Ezzard Charles.

"No, I can't say now how I intend to fight Marciano," the 26-year-old British Empire title-holder said in reply to a question. "I shall adapt myself to conditions in the ring. I shall make my own moves as I go along."

Asked whether he thought Marciano was a "foul fighter," Don said "no, I don't think so. However, I am prepared for anything. If he plays rough I can do the same, you know. But I'm not looking for anything out of the way. He is a fine fellow and I expect we shall have a good, clean fight."

City Boxers To Compete In Vancouver

A contingent of 10 Vancouver Island boxers is leaving for Vancouver tonight to participate in the B.C. Junior Golden Gloves Tournament.

Making the trip from the Fire Department Boxing Club are Barry Bissenden, 1955 70-lb. Silver Gloves champion; Tommy Black, 1955 Vancouver Island 65-lb. Silver Gloves champion; Gavin McLean, 1955 Vancouver Island 126-lb. Silver Gloves champion; Gordie Rabey, 1955 100-lb. Vancouver Island Silver Gloves champion, and Brian O'Gare, 1955 106-lb. Vancouver Island Silver Gloves champion.

From Sidney will be Bob Beasley, 1955 Vancouver Island 85-lb. Silver Gloves champion; Gordy Pearson, 1955 Vancouver Island 90-lb. Bronze Gloves champion, and Harvey Pleues, 1955 Vancouver Island 85-lb. Bronze Gloves champion.

John Pringle, 1955 Vancouver Island 112-lb. Silver and Bronze Gloves champion, will represent Colwood Boxing Club, while Gordie McGaw, 1954 Vancouver Island 85-lb. Silver Gloves champion, will be going from Esquimalt Boxing Club.

The fighters will be under the care of coach Ed Duffin, with the trip being partially sponsored by Victoria Optimist Club.

SOFTBALL PRACTICE

Mary's Coffee Bar of the Senior B Men's Softball League will hold a workout tonight at lower Central Park starting at 6 o'clock.

WHL Clubs Must Carry Two Rookies in Future

CALGARY (CP) — Western Hockey League directors, at their annual meeting in Calgary Tuesday, retained the 15-player limit and passed a ruling that each club must carry two rookies.

The league also decided to retain the 70-game schedule and the 1955-56 campaign will start October 7 and end March 17. Playoff plans were left in abeyance until the makeup of the league is made definite.

Another ruling put into effect will ban inter-league transfers after January 15, without the league's consent.

New Westminster, Victoria and Regina have requested and have been granted until June 1 to complete negotiations with their respective arenas regarding rentals and other concessions. At that time they will have to decide whether they will operate or not.

League president Al Leader said he did not think there was any question of the three clubs not operating. "They just want to get their negotiations completed before making definite entry."

The proposed Seattle franchise is still open for negotiation and Leader felt that something would develop to bring the United States club back into the league.

Should Seattle re-enter competition, and Winnipeg and Regina go ahead with their plans to enter the western circuit, then the league will operate in two divisions. Seattle, Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster would form the far-west division and Calgary, Edmonton, Saskatoon, Regina and Winnipeg the Prairie division.

League officials said they were disappointed in the decline in attendance but were not alarmed. The general feeling was that the game would regain its previous popularity within the next two years.

Should Seattle not operate next year, the league will be composed of eight teams operating in a single division.

Heavy Soccer Program On Tap for City Clubs

Action will be heavy in the Victoria and District Football Association over the week-end as teams participate in three cup competitions.

Featured match will take place Sunday afternoon at 2 at Heywood Avenue Park when Victoria Wests meet Heaneys in the semifinal round of the Province Cup. Winner of this game will meet Victoria City in the final.

In Oliver Cup play on Saturday, Canadian Scottish meets Tillicums at Central Park at 2.30.

Sunday, an Oliver Cup game will see Butlers play Wood Motors at Lower Beacon Hill Park at 2.30, while Dutch Wanderers meet Punjab in a McGavin Cup game at Reynolds Road at 2.

Other McGavin Cup draws will have Canadian Scottish vs. Combines, Duncan vs. Wood Motors, Wests vs. Tillicums, JBAA vs. Heaneys and Esquimalt vs. Butlers.

In the only league game over the week-end, JBAA meets Esquimalt at Lower Beacon Hill Park Saturday afternoon at 2.30.

MID-WEEK GAMES

Because of postponements due to bad weather and the heavy surplus of league games remaining, league officials expect to schedule contests for Wednesday nights in an effort to clear up most local soccer activity by the end of the month.

The first division has 12 games remaining, while the second division has four. Some of the remaining games may not be played, however, as Duncan has already clinched second division honors, and Heaneys need only two more victories to clinch at least a tie for the first division title.

IF BOBO MOVES UP

Robinson Would Claim Ring Crown

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson, who meets Ted Olla of Milwaukee Tuesday night in his fourth comeback bout, says he will reclaim the middleweight title if champion Bobo Olson vacates it.

"Olson obviously is interested in the light-heavyweight title," Robinson said. "He meets Joey Maxim tonight and if he wins he'll fight Archie Moore for the title. If he beats Moore, Olson will surrender his middleweight crown.

"In that case I will reclaim the title because I retired as the unbeaten champ. I am confident I can get by Olla. I have first claim to the title because I never gave it up."

BOXLA PRACTICE

Jokers of the Senior "B" Lacrosse League will hold a workout Thursday night at 6 at Stevenson Park. All of last year's players and others interested are invited to turn out.

Junior Shamrocks Practice Tonight

Coach Archie Browning of the Victoria Junior Shamrocks has called the first practice of the season for his team tonight at 6.30, at Stevenson Park.

This year the team will play in the city Senior B League as well as playing a limited number of games in the Intercity Junior Lacrosse League.

Archie Will Do His Flip, But Only on One Condition

The question is: Will he do it?

Former Olympic Games and British Empire Games coach, Archie McKinnon, who does not make hollow promises, has taken a vow with regards to Friday night's Olympic Games Fund Ball at Crystal Garden.

The doughty Archie has promised that, if the dance is a sell-out, he will make a fully-clothed, one-and-a-half back flip from the rafters of the Crystal into the pool.

So far, there is no indication as to whether Archie will be forced to follow up on his promise. However, if the sports fans respond to his vow, Archie may spend a wet evening. All proceeds from the unique dance will be turned over to the Olympic Games Fund to help make Canada a stronger threat in 1956 when the Olympic torch is lit.

In addition to dancing to two bands from 9 to 1, the program features a never-before male fashion show, featuring muscle-bearing mannequins from local sports circles. Names like Dorohoy, Severson, Clark and Pickburn will show off names like Londonderry, Daks, Brookes Brothers and Tooke.

While the models have turned down a request to use some softening facial make-up, they all have graciously agreed to undergo hair-cuts.

Dress will be informal.

Style will be cabaret.

Masters-of-ceremonies will be Ted Reynolds and Hugh Curtis.

Whitey Severson will be elegant.

See you there.

"But this year, watch out," he said during a visit from his home in Seattle. "I'm going to have my greatest season ever."

Playoffs Mark Tenpin Action

By RON COULTER

Champions will be named by next Wednesday in all major city tenpin circuits.

In the Strathcona's Men's Commercial Tenpin League, it will be Dormans against Princess Mary in a close battle for the title Thursday night.

Dormans will enter the final as first-half winners. After tieing with Dormans for second-half leadership, Princess Mary won the right to enter the final by defeating Dormans in a playoff to decide the second-half winner Tuesday night.

Princess Mary shot games of 844, 890 and 951 for a 2,685 triple in defeating Dormans by 22 pins. Dormans chalked up singles of 880, 876 and 907 in hitting for a 2,663 total.

Grand Spot News and Coulters will roll-off for third and fourth places Thursday night.

One week from tonight Shaw Sheet Metal will meet Cigarette Vending for Gibson's Commercial Tenpin League championship.

Braves off and Running; Indians Capture Opener

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Could be that the opening day of major league baseball set the pattern this season. Milwaukee and Cleveland were off and winning and the New York Giants, Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Yankees couldn't do a thing about it.

The pre-season popularity polls had Milwaukee's Braves copping the National League flag, with the world champion Giants and Brooks somewhere behind. Cleveland was picked to repeat in the American, again beating out the Yanks.

Milwaukee and Cleveland made hay Tuesday while the other three contenders for the two pennants were stopped by rain. The Braves uncovered rookie Chuck Tanner, who swatted a first-pitch, pinch home run to get a 4-2 victory going against Cincinnati. And Cleveland, mixing power with its pitching, knocked off the Chicago White Sox, a dark horse threat, 5-1.

The Chicago Cubs won their second 1955 decision, beating St. Louis Cardinals, 14-4, in the only other National League game played.

A's BEAT DETROIT

In the American, the Kansas City Athletics broke into their new surroundings with a 6-2 victory over Detroit, and the Boston Red Sox gave the Baltimore Orioles their second setback, 7-1.

Tanner, a 25-year-old prospect up from Atlanta, carried on the Braves' "rookie-a-spring" program. Manager "Cholly" Grimm, who sprung loose Billy Bruton in '53 and Hank Aaron in '54, tapped Tanner to bat for Warren Spahn with Braves trailing 2-1 in the eighth.

Like Spahn, Cleveland's Bob Lemon got off toward another 20-victory season, handing the White Sox on four singles and a double. The Indians, apparently not as over-confident as general manager Hank Greenberg feared, got to Virgil Trucks for two runs in the first as Vic Wertz singled with the bases loaded.

K.C. TRIUMPHS

Kansas City relied on a three-run sixth to beat Ned Garver and the Tigers. The A's got nine hits, including a single, double and home run by Bill Wilson. Alex Kellner gave up six Detroit hits, one a Red Wilson homer, and Ewell Blackwell protected the decision with two-hit ball in the last three frames.

The Cubs repeated the hitting success of their first 1954 taste of St. Louis pitching, knocking out Brooks Lawrence in a five-run first and going on to total 18 hits off five Card hurlers. Dee Fondy drove in five runs with a bases-loaded double in the big first and a full house single in a six-run second.

Boston and new manager Pinky Higgins kicked up their heels as Ted Lepcio smashed two home runs in the rout of Baltimore.

Commission to Decide On Lacrosse Transfers

VANCOUVER (BUP) — Disposition of players Cliff Sepka and Murray Duncan will probably be left to the decision of the Intercity Lacrosse League Commission, Mount Pleasant Indian coach Jake Proctor said Tuesday night.

Proctor said Sepka and Duncan both belonged to the New Westminster Royals, but had signed transfer forms to his club which will be forwarded to the commission.

He said the Royals have refused to acknowledge the transfers.

The Vancouver Island team built up a 1-0 lead in the first half and then held on in the second half in the face of a stiff Vancouver rally and a blinding hail storm.

Henri Wetselaar scored two goals for Vancouver Island and Michael Penn the other goal.

Hawks Blank Dutchmen

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP) — Moncton Hawks, showing their best form to date in the eastern Canada Allan Cup finals, smothered Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen 6-0 here Tuesday night in the fourth game of the best-of-seven series. The Dutchmen lead 3-1 in games.

Cordova Bay Leads

Cordova Bay edged Saanichton Copley Brothers, 33-32, Tuesday night at Saanichton Agricultural Hall to take a one-point lead in the two-game, total-point series for the Saanich and Suburban Basketball League juvenile girls' championship.

Final game will be played at Cordova Bay April 23.

Jansen Quits Giants; To Hurl for Rainiers

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Larry Jansen, who spent his entire eight-year major league career with New York Giants, quit the club Tuesday and announced he will pitch for Seattle of the Pacific Coast League.

The 34-year-old father of seven children was attempting a comeback this year after being dropped from the pitching corps and made a coach last July. He has been ineffective in spring training.

Jansen said he thought he would make more money than the estimated $10,000 he gets from the Giants, adding he would be closer to his home in Forest Grove, Ore., playing for the PCL club.

He joined the Giants in 1947 after winning 30 games for San Francisco in the Pacific Coast League the previous year and promptly won 21 games while losing only five.

Joey Maxim Predicts Knockout Over Olson

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Aging Joey Maxim, his punch streamlined, predicted Tuesday night that he will knock out Carl "Bobo" Olson in their non-title 10-rounder tonight at the Cow Palace.

"This is one guy I'll flatten," said Maxim, the former light-heavyweight champion. "I think this guy is a push-over against a good left hand, and that's what I've got."

Maxim, who exuded confidence, has to hit the scales today at 175 pounds under terms of a $10,000 forfeit insisted upon by Olson's manager, Sid Flaherty, and agreed to by his boss, Jack Doc Kearns.

There was just as much optimism around Olson's headquarters, but no talk of a knockout. Olson, who expects to weigh around 170 pounds, figures to maul Maxim savagedly around the mid-section in the manner that has won him 61 of 67 previous fights, including the last 20 in a row.

Horwood-Munro Take Junior Buttons

Cliff Horwood and Doug Munro of Victoria Golf Club recently defeated Norm Boden and Roy Chappell of Gorge Vale, one up, at Victoria Golf Club to win the city junior buttons.

The pair will make their first defense of the buttons Saturday at Royal Colwood Golf and Country Club when they meet T. Bradshaw and Bill Holland of Gorge Vale.

Bannister Predicts Wes Santee Will Run Next Four-Minute Mile

LONDON (AP) — Dr. Roger Bannister, first man to run the four-minute mile, predicted Tuesday that Wes Santee of the United States will become the third man to join the supermilers in the near future.

Bannister's 3.59.4 mile, run at Oxford, May 6, 1954, was bettered shortly afterward by Australia's John Landy, who ran 3.58 in Finland.

In his acceptance speech after receiving a trophy from the Helms Foundation of America, Bannister said:

"Santee, I think, will run a four-minute mile in the near future. He has perhaps the greatest record for times of any middle distance runner today, but has not been getting the stiff competition which will enable him to join Landy and myself. I think he can do it."

Bannister said Landy more than any other athlete had taught him what real competition could mean. The slim, sandy-haired doctor defeated Landy in the British Empire Games at Vancouver in a mile which saw both great runners finish under four minutes.

While Bannister was picking the American as the next four-minute miler, the British track world was excited by the news of an exceptional effort by Brian Hewson, a British army gunner who is British half-mile champion.

Hewson ran in Cambridge Monday at a tryout meet between a picked team and Cambridge University. He was clocked by three timers in 2.56 for three-quarters of a mile—world's best ever in competition for this odd distance.

SERVICE TO COMMUNITY

Dr. Salk Gets Nothing From Sale of Vaccine

PITTSBURGH (from AP and UP dispatches)—Six years ago a mild-mannered young scientist vowed an unceasing fight to conquer one of mankind's greatest scourges—polio.

Tuesday the world learned how well Dr. Jonas Edward Salk succeeded.

Salk will receive no royalties from sales of the vaccine on which he worked long and tirelessly, according to United Press. His work was a contribution to humanity financed entirely with the funds of the National Polio Foundation. The mass test alone cost $10,000,000, and the foundation has contracted to spend an additional $3,000,000 to $9,000,000 on inoculation doses for children this summer.)

Slender and of medium height, the 40-year-old virus expert is a giant in energy and purpose. He enjoys his work and has a deep sense of social obligation.

These are the things which have enabled him to toil constantly at the University of Pittsburgh the last few years in search of an effective polio vaccine.

Word that Dr. Salk had developed a polio vaccine caused a great stir in the spring of 1954. Reporters by the dozens came to his doorstep seeking details.

FENDS OFF QUERIES

Always gracious, Dr. Salk managed to fend off most of them by saying:

"Every minute I talk to you is time spent away from the laboratory, time I cannot afford to spend this way."

Before the vaccine could be mass-produced, it had to be perfected. That took time.

But children would die of polio that summer of 1954. Public pressure mounted. Couldn't the vaccine be put on the market right away?

As a father himself, Dr. Salk was inclined to hurry.

But as a scientist he was forced to move slowly.

RIGOROUS SCHEDULE

His working schedule was rigorous—18, sometimes 24 hours a day. He had to be careful, methodical, deliberate.

Testing animals in a laboratory was one thing. Before he could test the vaccine on children, a long, long bridge had to be crossed.

The vaccine had to be effective—and safe beyond any doubt. Possible harmful side effects had to be checked and rechecked.

It was scientific checking. There couldn't be any shortcuts. One step had to follow another.

Dr. Salk's friends know the brilliant researcher can't be hurried. One of them says:

"He is one of the clearest, most deliberate thinkers I've ever known. He has great emotional stability. You can bet he won't push his work one second faster than it is absolutely safe to do."

Most of the time Dr. Salk is cool and objective. But he isn't immune to emotion. During the early testing of his vaccine on humans, Dr. Salk observed:

"When you inoculate children with a polio vaccine, you don't sleep well for two or three weeks."

A striking characteristic is his kindness and gentleness in dealing with children. When he conducted trials with youngsters in Pittsburg district schools before the country-wide tests, Dr. Salk spent considerable time personally reasuring frightened first and second-graders.

Asked by a reporter whether it took a certain amount of daring to progress from monkeys to children in his experiments, Dr. Salk replied:

"I have the courage of my convictions. I couldn't do it unless I was more critical of myself than others are of me. It is courage based on confidence, not daring, and it's confidence based on experience."

In the experimental stages of the vaccine, doubt was expressed in some quarters as to the vaccine's safety. Dr. Salk never doubted. His three sons were among the first to be inoculated.

FIRST HUMAN INOCULATED with Salk polio vaccine was William Kirkpatrick, 20, photographed at Pittsburgh, with his dog, Mike. In June, 1952, he and 39 other patients at the D. T. Watson Home for Crippled Children at Leesdale, Pa., volunteered to take the vaccine in a test conducted by Dr. Salk. The injection had nothing to do with Kirkpatrick's recovery from polio. Three Major Killers Still Defy Scientists

WASHINGTON (UP) — U.S. government authorities said today the nation's biggest health problems remain unsolved even though infantile paralysis apparently is in retreat before Dr. Janos Salk's vaccine.

Heart disease, the biggest killer, still causes about 750,000 deaths a year. Cancer, the No. 2 menace, accounts for another 250,000.

Mental illness probably is the most serious problem of all, for mental patients occupy more than half of all the hospital beds in the United States and cost taxpayers $1,000,000,000 a year.

GREAT HARBOR

Hong Kong, British island colony on the China coast, has one of the world's finest natural harbors.

Salk Stirs World To Stamp Out Polio

LONDON (AP)—Spurred by the success of the Salk vaccine, governments from Africa's southern tip to Canada's Arctic reaches made plans today to shift their anti-polio campaigns into high gear.

But some west European experts already have warned that the vaccine that worked in the United States and Canada might not also be effective across the Atlantic. Scientists in Britain, France and Sweden say they are pushing ahead on development of vaccines of their own.

A spokesman for the British Medical Research Council explained: "Viruses of the disease differ in various parts of the world, and the vaccines to combat them must naturally differ too."

Dr. James Gear, director of South Africa's Polio Research Foundation, said a locally developed vaccine similar to Dr. Jonas Salk's will be issued there soon. The issue had been delayed until the report from the U.S., but "research groups and health authorities in many parts of the world now will be able to determine their policy regarding inoculation."

START NEXT MONTH

Danish health authorities plan to begin free vaccination before May 1 of all children between the ages of seven and 12 whose parents give permission. The project will use a vaccine developed by Danish scientists who studied the Salk method.

Prof. Pierre Lepine, head of the virus service of the Pasteur Institute, reported in Paris that France soon will be turning out its own anti-polio vaccine, developed along Salk's principles and differing only in details of formula and fabrication.

The British Medical Research Council's spokesman termed the results of the North American tests "most promising." A similar test, "although on a much smaller scale," will be carried out in Britain.

MONTREAL (BUP)—Dr. Lee Salk, brother of the man who developed the vaccine to lick paralytic polio, is a research assistant in McGill University's department of psychiatry, attached to the famous Allan Memorial Hospital.

POLIO-KILLER'S PARENTS HUMBLY HAPPY FOR SON

NEW YORK (UP)—Dora and Daniel Salk, with humility and quiet pride, saw over a closed television circuit Tuesday night their scientist son, Dr. Jonas Salk, take an honored place in medical history.

They were part of an audience of 54,000 persons—mostly doctors—who watched the story of the development of the Salk vaccine to conquer polio. The telecast also was seen in Canada.

Earlier in the day at their five-room, West Side apartment, Mrs. Salk cried a little over the world admiration her son had won.

"Whatever he touched, he made a success," she said.

Dr. Salk's father, a retired blouse manufacturer, said: "We gave our three boys the education we never had."

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Thoughts which I'd rather not keep to myself. In fact, I'd rather not keep.

Been thinking monkey business will have a new meaning to millions since Dr. Salk & associates got into the act.

Been thinking, is it really true a monkey wrench is a chimpanzee with a sprained ankle?

Been thinking, there is something basically wrong with our monetary system. Instead of using dollars as a medium of exchange, we should use balloons. This way, we'd never be troubled with inflation—if balloons got too big, just let out the air, and presto: deflation.

(Not at all, Mr. Harris . . . don't bother to thank me.)

Been thinking, it is a very great thing which happened yesterday when Premier Bennett met his cabinet in Vancouver. Certainly a step in the right direction.

And you can take that thought whichever way you choose to, depending on your political leanings.

Been thinking, whatever happened to Waldo Skillings, and why didn't he get his picture taken on the beach at Waikiki?

Been thinking, whatever happened to the good old See B.C. First vacation campaign?

Been thinking, couldn't the Yalta papers have been included in the recent clean-up, paint-up, and burn-up campaign?

Been thinking, will the two dollar bettor lose any more or any less if he can see his nag run last instead of just hearing his nag has run last?

Been thinking, the headline of the year was in The Times yesterday: "Only the Weather Can Hold Thomas Back." Would like to know, what is going to hold Thomas UP?

In re above, been thinking it's time for a fearless prediction on who will be the first to swim Juan de Fuca Strait. Answer: Cadborosaurus. Any bets?

Been thinking, why not cut this column short today and leave room for a little literature on the page?

City council justice committee will recommend to council Thursday that juvenile court be moved from the police station to the city health and welfare centre at 1947 Cook.

It was the first meeting of the justice committee, set up by Mayor Claude Harrison in his inaugural address.

Chairman Ald. Millard Mooney said the recommendation will come before council Thursday. He said the committee made no recommendation on another mooted action—the combining of city solicitor and city prosecutor.

City solicitor Arthur Patton is expected to leave office this year in accordance with retirement regulations. City Hall sources believe the posts will be combined at that time.

In the Fraser area, threatened by floods at this time last year, precipitation has been slightly below normal, eliminating any threat of a re-occurrence of the flood disaster of a few years ago.

August Big Month for Strait Swim Attempts

German Challenger Calls Postponement

Whether Bert Thomas wins or loses his attempt to subdue the chilly, tide-ripped waters of Juan de Fuca Strait, additional challengers will come to Victoria for attempts later in the year.

Strait challenger John Giese, 25-year-old German immigrant from Vancouver, decided today to make his Victoria-Port Angeles swim attempt in August.

"I want to do it right now, and I don't want people to think I'm a quitter," he said. "But Victoria shipping men who know the Strait so well tell me I would be better to try in August."

Giese expressed gratitude for the help given him by Harold Elworthy, Island Tug and Barge president, and other shipping men.

"I have seen the Strait, I have swum in it," he said. "I will go back and continue training and studying the tides and currents."

Giese had wanted to make a "solo" swim, without benefit of boat or navigators, but was persuaded it would be suicidal.

DEFINITELY RETURN

He says he will definitely return in August, regardless of his impending marriage.

"I will show the people I mean business," he said.

Meanwhile, in Haileybury, Ont., 19-year-old Rodney Glassford has set late August or early September as the date for his attempt on the never-conquered strait. He decided two weeks ago to make the try.

"It has never been done before but I am positive I can do it," he said.

Glassford has mapped out a training program for the next month which mainly consists of a five-mile run along the railway track between Haileybury and New Liskeard.

He was born at Golden Lake, near Pembroke, Ont., and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Glassford.

Another August strait challenger will be Mrs. Anne Meraw, Vancouver, mother of a 14-year-old son. And it is likely Flo Chadwick will follow through on last year's promise to "come back and try again in 1955."

Police Budgets Reduced Here, In Vancouver

Both Vancouver and Victoria are having police budgets and personnel slashed.

A police commission meeting here Tuesday knocked out the request for five additional constables for the force, and four officers slated to retire will not be replaced.

The commission refused to consider either additional staff or replacements.

In the face of increased Vancouver crime, Chief Mulligan must cut his budget by $93,000. He had planned to hire five new policemen and buy 10 new patrol cars.

Provision for hiring additional constables here was contained in the proposed $476,632 budget.

Salaries for 81 uniformed officers are budgeted at $311,736, and for the 12-man detective force at $59,168.

Commission delayed decision on a $9,050 estimate for purchase of eight motorcycle radios and an $800 patrol wagon two-way radio.

Purchase of a drunkometer was shelved.

'STRAITITIS' HITS ELWORTHY AS SWIMMERS KEEP A-COMING

Channel swimmers are beginning to become a mild form of phobia with Harold Elworthy, president of Island Tug and Barge, whose ships accompany the Strait challengers.

The Times today learned that the following dialogue was overheard in the firm's office this morning:

Secretary: "Mr. Elworthy, there's a man outside to see you."

Mr. Elworthy (visibly shaken): "Tell me, has he got a bathing suit under his arm?"

Fire Insurance Policy Switch Contested Here

Important Case In Appeal Court

A legal battle is being waged before the B.C. Court of Appeal here which may have widespread effects on fire insurance policy holders.

F. H. H. Parkes, counsel for the Indemnity Marine Assurance Co. Ltd., argued that an insurance policy is personal and can not be passed on from one person to another without the company being notified or approving the new insurer.

This would mean, he said, a company is not liable when a person sells his home and passes on his fire insurance policy to the purchaser — unless, of course, the company has been notified of the change and approved the new insurer.

QUITE COMMON

The practice of passing on fire insurance policies without notifying insurance companies is quite common, he said.

Normally the risks are the same when a policy changes hands, he said.

"But there is always the danger the company might not consider the new ensurer a good risk and would not have insured the same property."

The present case involves the Canadian Acceptance Corp Ltd. (a finance company), owner of a tractor which was destroyed by fire.

E. L. Vineyard, a mainland farmer, was buying the tractor from the finance company when he decided to sell it to a logger subject to an agreement that payments would continue to be made to the finance company. The farmer at the same time passed on his fire insurance.

DESTROYED TRACTOR

Subsequently, a fire destroyed the tractor. The insurance company was never informed the policy had changed hands, and is now claiming it is not liable.

Mr. Justice J. C. Clyne of Vancouver ruled in favor of the insurance company. The finance company is now appealing his decision.

P. F. Hogan and Jacob Ziegel, counsel for the finance corporation, contend that the policy is binding on the company.

Future Bright For Insurance Meeting Told

Canadian life underwriters aren't fearing additional social legislation expected in future years.

They don't think life insurance sales will be harmed because such legislation merely serves to make people conscious of their old age. They then make additional provision for it by buying more life insurance.

This is the contention of C. W. Mealing of Toronto, president of the Life Underwriters' Association of Canada, who is here for a one-day educational meeting of 75 Victoria and district life underwriters. They are members of the Victoria and Vancouver Island Life Underwriters' Association.

NOT AWARE

Prominent men in the field from Canada and the U.S. addressed the parley with emphasis on the fact that the general public was not sufficiently aware of insurance benefits.

The Victoria group is one of 73 similar organizations across Canada representing 7,300 underwriters.

Mr. Mealing said aims of the group are to give members knowledge needed to offer professional insurance counsel through educational meetings, university extension courses and various publications.

Speakers were Mr. Mealing; L. W. Dunstall, Toronto, executive vice-president; H. L. Nutt, director, Life Insurance Marketing Institute, Purdue University, Layfayette, Ind., and N. A. Leonard, agency manager, Southland Life Insurance Co., Seattle.

CONFIDENT NOW

Mr. Dunstall said that from suspicion of life insurance in the public mind years ago, the attitude had changed today to one of confidence in the stability and integrity of companies.

Said Mr. Leonard: "As long as there is a need for money, there will be a need for life insurance. It has no substitutes and for the majority of people, there is no other way to financial security."

Every healthy person has too much life insurance, said Mr. Nutt, and it was only when he is sick, old or dead that he hasn't enough.

Can-Can Capers

This trio of "bump-sa-daisy" damoiselles will flutter skirts in the intriguing traditional manner Friday and Saturday in aid of the Solarium. They are part of cast of 100 in Solarium Junior League "Follies of '55" in aid of crippled children. Show starts at 8.30 p.m. in Oak Bay Junior High. Shaking leg in good cause are, left to right, Shirley Callard, Kay Vance and Betty Johnston.

ASK The TIMES

Q.—Is there any value to a silver Canadian dollar, 1935, with an Indian canoe on it?—D.E.C.

A.—That issue was minted in 1935 to mark the 25th anniversary of the accession of King George V, and it may be recalled that after it had been put out by the Bank of Canada in May of that year, more or less criticism of the design was heard. The fact that it was the first issue of a one dollar coin in Canada lent it a sentimental and historical value, and soon the canoe pieces were finding their way into the hands of collectors, where most of them repose today, some being owned by Victorians. The Times is informed that in the last dealings in these coins which reached public attention they were usually quoted at $2.50.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

SHOPPING GUIDE

New Relishes on Market Tempt Jaded Palates

By PENNY SAVER

I've been experimenting with relishes lately, and I've come across one that really made a hit in our house. You'll find the bottle looks a little odd, but the idea is especially good.

It's a corn relish, with solid kernels to tempt your taste and your eye for attractive foods.

We tried it with our ham on Sunday, and today I have to go shopping for more. The family has discovered a dozen uses for this relish. I was told that this is quite a common meat relish in the corn-growing belts. A jar costs 47 cents.

Two of my greatest weaknesses are food and clothes. Since I've delved into the subject of food, let's move onto clothes.

I've seen a dress so simple and neat, it lured me away from the new arrivals in formals. This dress is a silk print in two shades of blue, sprinkled here and there with white. A moderated Dior influence is seen in the dress, a slightly dropped waistline and high fitted bodice. There's a little white Peter Pan collar, and because Dior states that elbows are most unattractive, this dress is fashioned with the popular three-quarter length sleeves. The flared skirt has hip pleats, under which is stiffening. You'd like this dress, especially as it's only $8.95.

Do you ever rack your brain trying to think of something for that girl "who has just about everything?" I saw something today that nearly every woman would love to have, but would rarely buy for herself. It's an evening comb, so attractive that it takes on an aura of "necessity."

At least that's an excuse!

These combs really are regular small sized combs, with gold plated rims, but they fold away by means of a hinged apparatus into a matching gold case. Some of them have intricate designs engraved on them and others have rhinestones and pearls set into them. The all-gold ones are $1.95 and the jeweled ones $6.95.

I've something for little girls, one year and up, too. To show off their frilly party dresses and new cotton outfits, mommy can now buy pint-sized crinolines that look just like the big ones. Layers and flounces of white net are trimmed with piping of pink and blue ribbons and tiny feminine bows. The elasticized waistband will adjust to fit any sized child. They're $1.95. They are really effective. Tiny flared skirts, so many of which are all-around pleated, will stand 'way out to delight the little girl and mommy, too.

Bringing Up Baby

Hints Collected by Mrs Dan Gerber (Mother of 5)

In the daily hustle - bustle of doing things for baby, few of us stop to think what baby does for us. A young friend of mine put it very well indeed when she said: "The most wonderful thing about babies is that they enrich your heart and expand your horizon without exacting any fee whatever." Nice thought.

• • •

Assorted values. No one food can provide adequate amounts of all vitamins, minerals and other vital food values. That's why a variety of foods for baby is so important. Because a daily balanced diet offers a dependable source of the nutritional elements needed for strength, growth and energy.

• • •

To further the cause of a well-balanced infant diet, Gerber gives you a choice of 31 Strained Fruits, Vegetables, Meats, Dinners and Desserts—all specially processed to preserve a higher degree of nutritive values than is possible in the usual methods of home cooking. All are famous for natural flavorful goodness and appetizing true-to-nature colors. Made by the people who specialize in baby foods—and nothing else.

• • •

Bootee boon. "No more bootee ribbons to iron or fuss with," claims this clever mother. "I simply run elastic thread through the tops of baby's bootees. They cling like magic."

• • •

Fruit-ful idea. Ideal end-of-a-meal treat for your sugar-plum. Gerber's new Strained Fruit Dessert—a beautifully balanced blend of apricot, orange and pineapple—textured to a velvet-smoothness with a touch of tapioca. Seconds, anyone?

Keeping posted. Many of the best ideas in this column come from mothers just like you. Why not share your short cuts? Send to me, Gerber-Ogilvie Baby Foods Limited, Box 68, Toronto 18, Canada.

Martha Logan Appears In Cooking School Here

Mrs. Lydia V. Lillico, who has been in Victoria for the past few days making arrangements for a Martha Logan Cooking School, to be held here on May 3, met representatives of local women's groups Wednesday afternoon in the Empress Hotel.

Purpose of the meeting was to interest all women in Victoria in this event.

The school, to be held in Central Junior High School, will deal with the "magic of present day cooking," Mrs. Lillico informed yesterday's meeting.

It is being presented in all the larger cities in western Canada and is sponsored by Swift Canadian Co. Ltd., General Electric Co. and food stores. Martha Logan is well known as the author of a modern cook book and also as a nationally famous home economist.

Women's groups in Victoria have the opportunity, Mrs. Lillico announced, of securing tickets for the cooking school and distributing them with the names of their groups on the backs. For every 25 tickets turned in at the door the night of the school, the particular group providing the tickets will receive $1.

Tickets are free. There will be no reserved seats. Prizes, awarded by draw the night of the show, include a GE electric range, GE rotary ironer and table, GE radio, GE hand mixer, Swift's premium hams, turkeys, meat roasts and food baskets. Every person present will also get a Martha Logan cook book.

Tickets will be available, not only through women's groups but at local food stores and General Electric dealers.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Working Against Deadline Effective Way to Reduce

Did your Easter outfit feel a little snug, or even downright uncomfortable? Was it impossible to wear what you really wanted to wear because you still had those extra pounds you had sworn to yourself you would get rid of before this Easter?

Well, if these things happened to you it proves that you are human. We all procrastinate and we all need the whip of a deadline in order to accomplish what we can, and also for the assurance that we can do a certain thing in a certain length of time.

If it is any comfort to you, I am with you! I gain weight very easily and when the first five or eight pounds too much lands on me, I would be very unhappy if I did not know that I can lose it with a little concentrated self-discipline, very quickly. I use my own 9-Day Diet plan.

For those of you who are with me, here are tomorrow's menus:

THURSDAY, APRIL 14
(Third Day)

Breakfast—One egg, one orange, one cup coffee.

Luncheon—One medium hamburger cake (cooked without butter and made of lean meat), celery sticks, one glass skimmed milk, two raw carrots.

Dinner—Small lean steak, one-half cup cauliflower, one baked potato (no butter; medium-sized potato has only about 90 calories), one apple, one glass skimmed milk.

If you muffed the Easter deadline, there is another one ahead of you—the season for play clothes, swim suits, lighter undergarments and no coats. In other words, the season of more revealing clothes.

If you would like to lose from five to 10 pounds in nine days time and have missed the menus which have already been printed in your favorite newspaper, or if you would like to have the complete 9-Day Reducing Diet in a little booklet, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Lanigan and the late Dr. A. G. Lanigan, exchanged vows with PO Roy Glenster Eldridge, RCN, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Eldridge. Archdeacon A. E. Nunns officiated.

Capt. Gates Holds Audience With Songs and Tales of Sea

A salty tang of the sea, the whistle of a fair wind and the keening song of billowing sails, filled the Empress Hotel ballroom Wednesday afternoon where Capt. Charles Cates told members of the Women's Canadian Club, something of the days of sail on the Pacific Coast.

Now Mayor of North Vancouver, Capt. Cates looks back to a childhood spent on the shores of Burrard Inlet in the days when the harbor was filled with sailing ships. Those boyhood memories include tales of hardships met with a smile and work accomplished to the rhythm of song.

In a clear ringing voice that had in it the power to ride above a stormy sea, Capt. Cates sang some of the best loved sea chanties to illustrate his stories.

The speaker sketched the background of sail in America from the days of the American Revolution to its development on the Pacific Coast when gold was discovered in California and then on the Fraser River in British Columbia.

He spoke of the great sailing ships that were built in Nova Scotia and, with a hint of sadness in his voice, told of the yearning for more and more speed on the highways of the sea that finally resulted in the sailing ship becoming obsolete and steam taking its place.

Briefly he spoke of the tugboat business—in which both he and his brother now have interests—its beginnings here in the days when sailing ships had to be towed into the Straits of Juan de Fuca because of the varying winds.

Capt. Cates was accompanied to Victoria by his 17-year-old daughter Catherine who was hearing her father speak for the first time.

"Not the first time I've heard him sing, though," she said with a fond smile. "When I was a little girl he used to sing me to sleep with those sea chanties."

The speaker was introduced and thanked by the club president, Mrs. Gordon Wismer.

Bill Davidson, chairman of the Victoria Industrial and Agricultural Exhibition, briefed members on their work in connection with the exhibition. Mrs. Elaine Heaslip conducted the business meeting when final plans were made for a superfluity, rummage and home cooking sale, in K of P Hall, Cormorant Street, on April 23 at 9 a.m.

At recent meeting of Royal Roads Chapter, IODE, the invitation of Mrs. W. S. Dingley to hold next meeting at the Juvenile Detention Home on April 20 was accepted. Mrs. H. Thruman was appointed World and Empire affairs convener.

Mrs. T. Lumsden presided and it was decided to once again present a nurse with $50 at the Royal Jubilee Hospital graduation on May 1.

The meeting was held in the Fifth Street home of Mrs. W. R. Roskelley.

Times Reporter Goes 'On Stage' As Pert 'Folly Dolly' in Show

By TERRY FRENCH

One-two-three kick! One-two-three kick!

That's what you'd have heard if you had peeked into the White Eagle Hall any night this week.

What's going on? Rehearsals for the "Follies of '55," of course.

Solarium Junior League, sponsors of the show, have "imported" a director, Bill O'Brien, from New York, to get the show into shape. And what he can do with a whole cast of untrained men and women would truly amaze you.

The cast is made up of a cross-section of talent from every nook and corner in Victoria. Even I am in it. Where? Well, I am one of what are called the "Follies Dollies." You'll see us in the opening number.

Boy, have we worked! Granted, not nearly so much as Bill O'Brien has, but we've been groaning—and kicking away for three weeks now trying to act like troupers . . . and sometimes we're actually succeeding.

(Costume from New York)

In the first week of rehearsals, my bones creaked every time I took a step, because of the "one-two-three." Now—those kicks don's bother me—or the rest of the line—and we're beginning to enjoy our brief taste of show business. Of course, every now and then someone will kick a little too high, or turn a little too fast. Then there's a gasp—a bang—and down we go on the shiny, slippery floor.

But it's all great fun! We sing, we dance. Some of our antics are almost indescribable . . . and it's all a part of our show.

I say "our," 'cause after a while the whole production seems to take on a personal aspect. You know, everyone should be in on something like this at least once during a lifetime. There's nothing like it.

The excitement of routines; the thrill of being able to say "I am a part of all this"; the glitter of our costumes, sent all the way from New York, are all a part of the hum of our "little Broadway."

For some of us it took a while to definitely establish "left foot—right foot." Counting even proved a trifle difficult at times. Ah! But that was darkness before light! Now we can took down the line of dancing girls and make the startling discovery that we're all doing the same thing. After a while, it was not startling at all—it was perfectly natural.

Soon it will all be over. We'll be "on stage" this Friday and Saturday night in the Oak Bay Junior High School auditorium.

Can anyone use a few dozen unemployed dancing girls?

Bride Chooses Blue Gown For Evening Wedding

A Dior blue taffeta and lace dress styled with flared skirt was chosen by recent bride, Elizabeth Ethel (Bessie) Cruickshank, for her wedding to William Thomas Clarkson, at a ceremony in St. John's Church. Rev. Canon George Biddle officiated for the daughter of Mrs. James Cruickshank and the late Mr. Cruickshank, and the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Clarkson. F. Chubb played traditional organ music.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, J. E. Field.

Miss Mildred Williams, bridesmaid, chose a dusty pink dress with matching hat and gloves and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations.

Mr. James Evans supported the groom and Mr. Johnny Field and Mr. Jack Evans acted as ushers.

A reception was held at the Field home on Hampshire Road where the bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake with pink carnations at the sides. Mr. T. Kay proposed the toast.

Leaving for a honeymoon in San Francisco the bride traveled in a grey worsted suit with navy hat and corsage of pink rapture roses. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Clarkson will reside at 2418 Hamiota Street, Oak Bay.

Her Husband Refuses To Help With Baby

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

Many men regard child care as "woman's work." However, they can carry this idea too far.

Hurlock

(Q)—"My husband was very anxious to have a child, especially a son. Well, I gave him a son last month and have found ever since I returned from the hospital that his interest in the baby is purely a form of self-glorification. He loves to tell everyone about the baby, how proud he is of him, and how delighted he is to have a son. But he never turns a hand to do anything for the baby.

"It was a difficult birth for me. Since I had not been well before the baby arrived, I am still far from back to normal. My husband won't get up at night when the baby cries or give him a bottle. He claims that he needs his rest to be able to do good work in the office and that I can get my sleep during the day. I have plenty of housework and extra work for the baby so I need rest too. Don't you think a husband should do something to help with his baby?"

(A)—Yes, I do think a man should help with his baby's care and with the work in the home. This is especially true when his wife is not well. I cannot understand why he has taken the attitude he has, unless it is because he has the idea that it is "unmasculine" for a man to do things for a baby.

It would be a very good idea for you to ask your doctor to talk to your husband and explain to him how important it is for you to get rest, at least until you have recovered from having the baby. Perhaps you need a good tonic to put you back on your feet.

Then, could you not arrange with your husband to share the night work for the baby? On week-end nights he might take over the job so you can have a night of unbroken sleep.

If he will help you with some of the housework, when he is not at his office, you would have more time during the day to rest. It may be a consolation to both of you to know that the night waking of babies lasts for only a few months. Several months from now, you and your husband can both look forward to sleeping through the night.

As a special service to our readers, Dr. Hurlock has written a 64-page booklet, "You and Your Problems." For your copy send 15 cents in coin with a self-addressed stamped envelope to this newspaper.

Avon's Shakespeare Season Opens to 14-Week Sellout

LONDON (CP)—The curtain rose Tuesday night on the 76th Shakespearean season at Stratford-on-Avon and before it drops on the final performance—eight months from now — almost 400,000 visitors will have trooped into the red brick Memorial Theatre.

Sir Laurence Olivier and Vivien Leigh head a distinguished cast in the 33-week season which opened with "Twelfth Night." Olivier, who played Malvolio Tuesday night, returns to Stratford for the first time since he performed as a 15-year-old schoolboy in "The Taming of the Shrew" and Miss Leigh made her first appearance as Viola.

Also on the program this year are "Macbeth," "All's Well That Ends Well," "The Merry Wives of Windsor" and the horrific "Titus Andronicus," which has had only three major British productions in the last 200 years.

All 80,000 seats for the first eight weeks of the season were sold out weeks ago. Booking for the following six weeks opened a week ago and almost all tickets have been sold.

Although the contemporary riverside theatre draws thousands of drama enthusiasts from many parts of the world, most of the celebrated Warwickshire town's 15,000 citizens greeted the season opening with stolid indifference.

The local pulse fails to quicken at the sight of the fluttering yellow flag which signals "performance tonight" because many residents feel they have lost their local festival. Few will see the inside of the theatre this season — they can't get tickets.

They had won the money as a prize for selling the most tickets to their Home and School Association "Fun Night," and wanted it to be used to feed eight little Korean friends with Canadian cod for two whole months.

NEW YORK (UP)—A surrogate court reserved decision today on a 22-year-old Yale student's demand to renounce a $350,000 trust fund willed to him by his millionaire father.

The student, Eugene F. Suter, Jr., said Tuesday he wanted no part of his inheritance and insisted that his "two hands and a head of my own" are all that he needs.

Suter was reported to have already given away more than $35,000 of the fund so far because of "moral and political" reasons.

Liquor no Problem Among B.C. High School Pupils Say Teachers

VANCOUVER (CP)—Only a small percentag of British Columbia high school students drink alcoholic beverages, a group of teachers said here Tuesday.

The teachers, here for the annual convention of the B.C. Teachers' Federation, said in an interview liquor has not developed into a problem in their schools.

They were commenting on a survey conducted by Donald Gilchrist, Nova Scotia temperance director, which showed 40 per cent of 18-year-old high school students in tha' province drink alcoholic beverages. Results of the survey of 5,630 Nova Scotia students were announced at Halifax this month.

"Today's teen-ager knows where he's going and is more able to make his own good judgment, in liquor as well as in any other field," said Miss May Elliott of Vancouver's Gladstone high school.

John Sutherland, a teacher at Vancouver Magee High, described the Halifax survey as "a lot of nonsense."

"I know a few students have a drink now and then, but 40 per cent is just nonsense.

P. T. Horne, a science teacher at the Langley, B.C., High who also conducts classes in alcoholic studies, estimated upwards of 10 per cent of 18-year-old students drink in B.C.

Bernard G. Holt of Nanaimo said education in the use of alcohol and its effects had proved successful in combatting the habit among B.C. students.

MISS VICTORIA PRELIMS TO BE HELD THURSDAY

Reduction in Drownings Aim of New Swim Course

Reduction of deaths by drowning, particularly during the summer months, is the aim of the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club, working in conjunction with the Royal Lifesaving Society through an eight-week course here.

Any youngster or adult is eligible to apply for classes at a registration meeting at Crystal Garden Thursday at 6.30 p.m.

Instructor will be Arnold Bailey, who may be contacted at 4-2658 for information, or interested persons may also call Jim McCague at 3-4681.

Mr. McCague says the club is interested in getting applicants to qualify for bronze awards so they may carry out basic lifesaving this summer when beaches and lakes are full of swimmers, many of them inexperienced.

Successful applicants are recognized by the Royal Lifesaving Society in England and are presented with a certificate. Bronze, silver and gold awards are made for further lifesaving qualification.

Last year the club passed 35 persons through lifesaving tests, and an additional 30 went through the course held in connection with schools.

Leaders are anxious to get lifesavers started on the current course with distribution of handbooks at the registration meeting, and practice sessions as soon as possible.

The course is expected to be completed by the end of June.

Williston Applauds New Teachers' Clubs

VANCOUVER (CP) — Education Minister Ray Williston told delegates to the B.C. Teachers' Federation convention here Monday future-teacher clubs have done more to advance the profession than anything else in the last 10 years.

"Remember that these clubs are representing 1,700 students who are receiving the best of help. The standards can't help but go up," he said.

Mr. Williston also told the convention committees now are considering changes in curricula suggested by the federation.

Teacher training facilities in Vancouver and Victoria will be crowded for a few years yet, the minister said.

In other business Monday, the federation co-operative association reported membership had grown to 1,239 from 16 in the last three years. Assets now total $350,000.

The co-op will move out of the real estate speculation business as it is considered too risky.

Joe Phillipson, first vice-president of the federation, told delegates the property management committee is planning to construct a $140,000 office building in Vancouver. The present offices will be sold for $75,000.

The meeting passed a resolution permitting the organization's president to take a year's paid leave of absence from teaching duties.

CHAMPAGNE CORKS ARE POPPING

Anti-Alcohol Drive on Rocks; French Tipplers Celebrate

PARIS (UP)—Frenchmen are popping more corks than ever. There is reason to celebrate. The anti-alcohol drive of former premier Pierre Mendes-France is on the rocks.

Not only are bars packed with uninhibited tipplers, but there is talk of getting rid of the few liquor control laws now on the books.

Parliament has so far refused to approve a single one of the alcohol control measures which helped topple Mendes-France from power. The new premier, Edgar Faure, has promised to continue the struggle against alcoholism but until local elections are held this spring no one expects parliament to tamper with the explosive issue.

One Paris newspaper with its nose in the wind has detected the scent of a counter-offensive by the alcohol forces. This might take the form of a move to lift the restrictions on advertising of alcoholic beverages.

Alcohol is certain to remain a major concern of French leaders. The French consume three times as much alcohol per capita as people in the United States. Alcoholic wards are packed. Cirrhosis of the liver is widespread. One out of two auto accidents involves a driver who has been drinking.

LIKE REVIEWER

'The Drunkard' Slightly Stiff

By TONY DICKASON

I saw a play last night which was a little stiff, a little tight, but nonetheless appealing.

Name: "The Drunkard,"

When sober, people who are drinking always look like miscast morons; but when one is drinking, people in plays who are supposed to be drunkards look like a second chance at charades.

To review this play, we fortified with a neat noggin of Old Whipping Post, just to get the mood.

It was a corking effort; the play, that is.

Bromides and liquor go well together, and concerning the play, superlatively.

"SH-WONDERFUL"

We would like to say thish was a wonderful play to revihu-evu-reevuu-. Maybe it was. People responsible were the California Players, who have been drinking publicly all over the continent.

But they haven't been successful here. Monday night there were four persons at the presentation; Tuesday night, 40. Tonight, by calibrated reasoning, there should be 400 at the 8.30 p.m. show at the Sirocco.

Well, htis is the play. Under a sign reading "God Bless Our Home" a dastardly villian who curses (the audience says 'boo') bares his teeth at the audience (the cur) and wants to foreclose the mortgage. The heroine, of course, has an alternative, which she renounces, in high falsetto.

Somewhere in the melee a sheriff, drunk like most of the cast, emerges. He's a wonderful little lush who would appeal even to the WCTU.

Red-Haired Rita In Battle With Columbia Studio

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Columbia studios suspended film star Rita Hayworth Tuesday for refusal to report to work as scheduled Monday in a new movie.

The red-haired star last Friday filed suit to cancel her contract with the studio because it failed to start work on the film, "Joseph and His Brethren," as originally planned March 8.

The studio's belated move was interpreted by a spokesman as barring her from working for anyone else until she finishes her contract at Columbia which calls for her to make two pictures.

The studio has not yet filed its answer to Miss Hayworth's suit. The actress was fearful that the late start on her film would prevent her from taking her daughter, Yasmin, to France in time to visit the girl's grandfather, the Aga Khan.

Drama Adjudicator Widely Experienced

Yvonne Firkins Has Been Producer, Director, Manager, Lecturer, Author

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

The adjudicator in any competitive festival holds, as it were, a position at the apex of a pyramid that begins with the organizing body and includes as its essential substance, plays, producers, actors and audience. For when all these have said their say and done their part, the adjudicator in a solo performance must sum up and analyze the results.

To the groups concerned importance of this part of the festival cannot be over-estimated. Particularly if directors and casts are alert for constructive criticism and not merely seeking the praise that is available any time from relatives and friends.

Selection of the adjudicator, therefore, is a major responsibility for the organizing committee.

YVONNE FIRKINS

IMPRESSIVE RECORD

Behind Mrs. Yvonne Firkins, who is the committee's choice to adjudicate plays in the South Vancouver Island Drama Festival, which takes place in Victoria April 19 to 23, there is an impresssive record of achievement in several drama fields.

Not only has she produced and directed scores of plays, musical comedy, ballet, pageants and children's theatre, she was for four years producer and manager of "Service Shows" which during the war supplied concert parties, both professional and voluntary, under National Auxiliary Services, for distribution throughout Pacific Command.

Eight musicals were done by Mrs. Firkins for Theatre Under the Stars. She has also had her own professional companies from time to time.

WRITER

University of Washington and Stanford University, California, have utilized her services as a lecturer on drama at summer schools, and she has authored instruction series for CBC, "Curtain Call" magazine and a drama forum published by the Vancouver Sun.

Other articles by her have appeared in Chatelaine, The Listener and in numerous periodicals and journals. She has organized and conducted drama courses at various centres under the department of education, and was founder, and for five years, producer of the British Columbia Dance Festival.

In addition, much experience in adjudicating in all parts of the province has given her a deep understanding and sympathy with the work of community theatre and all its attendant problems.

Three one-act plays by various groups in the Greater Victoria area will be judged on each of four nights and three will be chosen by Mrs. Firkins to appear in an honor performance on the Saturday evening, when several awards will be made.

All plays will be presented in the auditorium of Oak Bay Junior High School. Season or single tickets are available at the box office at Kent's Ltd.

COMPOSER W. H. ANDERSON DIES AT 72

WINNIPEG (CP)—A Winnipeg composer of carols and folk songs, William Henry Anderson, 72, died Tuesday at his home.

Born in London, England, Mr. Anderson had more than 150 songs published in Canada, the United Staates, England and Australia. He had penned between 30 and 40 carols and Christmas anthems.

For about 18 years Mr. Anderson directed the CBC choristers until ill-health forced him to retire about a year ago.

He had sung as a soloist at famous churches like St. Paul's in London's Knightsbridge district.

Corinne Calvert Weds Actor Jeff Stone

TANGIER, North Africa (AP)—Film actress Corinne Calvet and actor Jeff Stone, balked recently when they tried to get married in Portugal, succeeded Tuesday in the United States legation here. In Lisbon Miss Calvet's visa was found not in order.

HBC Plans More Jobs for Canadian Indians, Eskimos

LONDON (Reuters) — The 300-year-old Hudson's Bay Company, which explored and opened frontier posts in the Canadian northwest, has announced development schemes to help North American Indians and Eskimos.

In its annual report Tuesday the company said it plans to supplement the traditional living of the Eskimo by fostering boat-building at Lake Harbor, coal-mining at Port Inlet and whaling and hide-tanning at Pangnirtung.

A company spokesman said that it plans to extend its present projects in line with Canadian government plans.

The report said the Indian, who is not as dependent on the company as the Eskimo, also will benefit this year from higher prices for his furs. It said the demand was brought by a clamor for furs from New York.

In the last two months of the 1954 financial year there was a revival in the price and demand for many Canadian wild furs. Some were unsaleable in recent years, but now a large increase in sales and profits had followed a sharp upsurge in demand for ranch mink in New York and Montreal.

The company report said production of oil and natural gas from its holdings in the Hudson's Bay Oil and Gas Company Ltd. are likely to outstrip fur trading in the future.

GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP)—Prices remained firm reflecting broader commercial demand.

There were light offerings in barley and rye. The market was aided by firmness in the U.S.

Trade reports said more than a cargo of barley was sold, possibly to Ireland. This business was not fully reflected in trade.

Outside interest appeared in flax, but offerings were light. There were parcel lot sales of rye to the continent.

IWA and domestic No. 1 durums were up ⅝ of a cent. Other wheat prices were unchanged.

CHICAGO (AP)—Corn led a modest advance in grains. After a ragged start the yellow grain climbed upward slowly until grains ran to about 2 cents. Light receipts of cash corn and prospects of substantial exports to Great Britain spurred demand.

TODAY'S MARKET SUMMARIES

Profit-Taking Hits Base Metal Section

TORONTO (CP) — Trading pressure eased today as most major sections managed moderate gains.

Price changes moved in narrow range in major sections. Base metals, which have climbed steadily lately, eased with profit-taking hitting many issues.

Quebec Copper dropped 30 cents, Anacon Lead 20 and East Sullivan, Bathurst, Sheritt and Maritimes, all 15. Lake Cinch led a few advancing issues, jumping 50 to $2.50.

Consolidated Southern Petroleum led a strong western oils group, adding 42 cents. Tech-Hughes climbed 30 to $3.30 in an advancing golds section.

Canadian Tire climbed $5 in the industrial group and International Paper 2½.

NEW YORK (AP)—The market advanced into new high ground for the second straight session.

The rise was accomplished despite weakness in coppers which brought losses running to around 2 points. Gains, however, far offset the minus side of the list and ran to around 3 points at the best.

Work Now Rewarded Next Year

The greenish white blossoms of Helleborus niger (Christmas rose) are now superseded by flowers of more brilliant beauty, but we must not forget the pleasure and hope they gave us through winter and the slow spring. If their showing is to be repeated next year, we must do something about it now.

Hilda

None of the hellebores like frequent disturbance, so that a new site is desirable only if the plants do not thrive after two or three years in a location. In preparation for planting, choose a spot which will be shaded at least from the noon sun in summer.

Dig deeply, and provide a rich loamy soil, using well rotted compost or old manure. This mixture will retain moisture during the summer, and yet provide drainage during winter.

If the plants are doing well and there is no reason to dig and replant, mulch now with rotted compost, or a mixture of compost peat moss and a little balanced fertilizer.

During the summer I find it a good plan to take a pailful of water twice a week to the largest root of H. niger, for it is in an area which cannot be soaked with sprinklers because of ripening spring flowering bulbs.

If it is desired to raise new plants, seed should be sown as soon as ripe. It germinates best in gritty soil which is kept cool and moist over summer. A cold frame facing north is ideal.

Some of the seedlings will flower in 21 months from a May sowing, and selection can be made of the best plants. Interesting variations will be noted among the young plants, some more desirable than others.

BRIDGE LESSON

By Oswald Jacoby

When today's hand was played in a tournament recently, practically everybody played the South hand at three notrump. All of these declarers won the opening diamond lead with the ace and ran the five club tricks at once.

Poor West had to find three discards on the clubs, and the problem was usually too much for him. One spade discard would be fatal, for South would make his vital ninth trick with the jack of spades.

In some cases, West discarded two small diamonds and the 10 of hearts. This didn't work. After South had finished with the clubs he led a diamond. If West took three diamonds and the ace of hearts, he then had to lead a spade away from his queen, and then South got three spade tricks, making the contract.

In one case, West tried to get out of the end-play by taking the second round of diamonds, cashing the ace of hearts, and getting out with a low diamond to East's jack. Dummy then discarded a spade, and declarer easily established a heart as his ninth trick.

Only one defense really worked. West's three discards were one diamond and both hearts! When South now led a diamond, East won with the jack and cashed the king of hearts to give West a spade discard. Then East led his last diamond, and West set the contract with the rest of his tricks.

This defense was possible only because East signaled his heart strength very early and never discarded a diamond. Give credit to both defenders for this very ingenious defense.

Olson Fights Maxim in Non-Title Fight on C-11 at 7

THOUGHTS—It is difficult to put one's finger on exactly what is lacking in CBUT's musical revues, such as Monday evening's "Parade." But something lacking there definitely is.

For one thing, most of the artists look as though they are acting, that is, consciously so. They can't seem to lose themselves in their roles. There is that uncertain look about them, as if they are keeping their eyes averted from the TV camera with difficulty. Then, when they do look into the lens, they do so hurriedly, with a guilty air, like small boys caught raiding the pantry. Slowly this uneasiness transmits itself to the viewer so that the hoped-for effect is irreparably harmed.

But, most of all, these musicals lack verve, an elan. It might do well in their off moments, if the director and the artists themselves did some dial-switching to see how other performers do it. For instance, a prime example of dash and energy, plus artistry, was the New York ballet dancers on Ed Sullivan's Toast of the Town last Sunday. Now there was vim and vigor personified, moulded into imaginative choreography. There was Saturday night's delightful "Merry Widow," Sunday's "Roberta," and so on.

There is not too much to criticize in CBUT's sets or camera work. Both are quite adequate. Although we do think the continuity could be more subtle and the switch from scene to scene more imaginative.

In conclusion, it is much easier to write nice things about a show, much easier. So when we rap a revue such as "Parade" we hope it will be construed as being in good temper and constructive. As a matter of fact if we didn't think stars like Eleanor Collins, Pat Walker, our own John Dunbar, Thelma Gibson, Ernie Prentice, Don Franks and Lorraine McAllister had the talent to do better we wouldn't have bothered.

But Canadian artists are in the thick of some of the mightiest competition North America show business has ever had to offer. The wraps are off. We must compete on even terms or fall by the wayside. And this latter must never be allowed to happen to Canadian theatre. It is merely a matter of learning and working harder.

THURSDAY, APRIL 14, 1955

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)—Getting every single matter pertaining to your credit, reputation, duty as a patriotic citizen, vocational obligation completed finds your esteem from public, officials at new high. Be conscientious.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)—Now you can round out your educational, scientific, spiritual knowledge to include whatever you may have been missing before this time. Be open-minded.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—Get every bill paid, collect any funds due you, see to it that you understand perfectly any plan outlined by some experienced associate. Then you can soon forge ahead to new heights with little trouble.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21)—Checking relationships with all others—opponents as well as partners—will open up some interesting ways that you can gain added support by more down-to-earth, co-operative agreements.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—This is your day to be profoundly concentrated upon all details of work that require your own personal attention. Show co-workers you savvy their concerns, are willing to help relieve them of tediums.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—Now you have a fine day to bring creative talents to attention of those best able to aid you in making them successful. Later get all dolled up; go out on the town and have a good time. Be happy.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—This is an important day to keep your attention focused on matters that have to do with home, family, property, possessions. By so doing you attain support from close ties for long time to come.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—Get out early to see relatives, neighbors, business contacts; fine for anything that has to do with bringing your ideas to attention of others, attending to civic duties more intelligently. Get data you need to improve yourself.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—Now you can get all those bills paid, income collected, outlays planned in a more sensible manner. Be sure you do whatever is convenient to increase the value of real estate, property, personal possessions.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—This is your day to start early to get yourself in better health, more charming appearance so that later in day you can be very social contacting everyone who appeals to you in any way. Be happy.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Private concerns may seem unending, impossible to achieve as you'd like, but all you have to do is to keep plugging away, then tensions dissolve into nothingness from which they came. Be stalwart, sturdy, solid.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)—Now you have a good chance to bring your choicest aims to you quickly just by being steadfast and working along with good friends, solid citizens who appreciate and are willing to assist your progress.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN THURSDAY . . .

Thursday's child is one of those very conscientious youngsters who ricoched between being a pioneer and one who conservatively follows accepted methods of procedure. Make sure that you early teach that both can be correctly done if a wise use of time is thoughtfully worked out. This requires using each hour to best advantage in its proper medium. Your child needs extra care in early life to build up physical resistance for later years when there will be so much activity present that he or she can overdo and require a long rest period. You have a talented child.

INTERNATIONAL MELTING POT

Jamboree Date Anxiously Eyed By 45 Eager Victoria Scouts

Forty-five Victoria Boy Scouts are counting the days between now and Aug. 18, when they will be among 10,000 Scouts from 57 countries attending the 10-day eighth World Jamboree at Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont.

It will be the first time in history the jamboree has been held outside Europe, a significan fact for Canada, and illustrative of the jamboree motto: "New Horizons."

All told, there will be 429 British Columbia Scouts in the 3,500-strong Canadian contingent, with Greater Victoria, Nanaimo, Arrowsmith, Duncan, Alberni, Campbell River, Comox and Honeymoon Bay representing Vancouver Island.

Appropriately, the World Scout Jamboree's first North American meeting is being held in a spot claiming a first for Canada. Niagara-on-the-Lake was the scene of Upper Canada's first parliament in 1792, and is the oldest Canadian town.

The actual campsite to be used is the same one General Brock pitched his army's tents on during the war of 1812.

SELF-SUSTAINING

The campsite, with historic Fort George as a backdrop, will be virtually a self-sustaining community, having a main thoroughfare lined with canteens, souvenir shops, sub-post offices, trading posts, a branch bank, telephone and telegraph services and press headquarters.

Each of 10 sub-campsites will be provided with electrical and water services as will the main camp, giving all areas lights and showers.

Department of national defense will attend to fire protection with a special 24-hour duty fire department. Scouts themselves will take care of camp policing. A special force of 60 Rover Scouts will be responsible for internal security, maintaining a 24-hour patrol.

The public will be admitted to the international melting pot Aug. 20 to 27 daily from 2-10 p.m. Arena shows will be staged for their benefit.

Most spectacular aspect of the jamboree is the staggering number of meals which will be served—well over a quarter of a million.

In the camp commissary cooks will tackle more than 400 tons of supplies including 210,000 pounds of dairy products, 35,000 pounds of meat, 97,000 pounds of fresh vegetables, 55,000 pounds of canned vegetables, 40,000 pounds of canned fruits, 28,500 pounds of fresh fruits, 142,700 pounds of bread and pastry, 10,850 pounds of jams and jellies, and 5,000 pounds of pickles.

COOKING

Cooking will be accomplished with 100,000 pounds of charcoal, and to preserve the mountain of groceries, 50 tons of ice will be used.

The cost per Scout is only $50—$30 camp fee and $20 living expenses—but travelling expenses will vary from nothing to several hundred dollars, depending on how far each one must travel.

Canadian Scouts are conducting a campaign to raise as many $50's as possible to aid brother Scouts from dollar-shy countries to pay their camp and living fees. They call it "breaking the dollar barrier," something the diplomats have not been able to accomplish in the last decade.

$1.5 Million RCN Expansion Set at Halifax

HALIFAX (CP)—The federal government boosted summer construction estimates in Halifax to $70,000,000 Tuesday by announcing that $1,500,000 worth of new naval buildings will be put up here.

Included in the Defense Construction Limited announcement were quarters for unmarried officers, a recreation building at Shearwater naval air station across the harbor from Halifax and a $30,000 addition to the Stadacona shore base anti-submarine school.

B.C. Pilot Safe After Jet Crash; Yukon Man Killed

EDMONTON (CP)—RCAF officials released today the identity of a navigator killed on a training flight Tuesday when his CF-100 jet fighter crashed near Bonnyville, approximately 150 miles northeast of Edmonton.

FO Paul Flannery, whose father, Staff Sgt. George Flannery, is in the army at Whitehorse, Y.T., died in the crash.

The pilot of the plane, who parachuted to safety, was identified as FO Leslie Sparrow of Vancouver.

The aircraft was from the air force's guided missile range at Cold Lake, 30 miles east of Bonnyville.

Mexican Burros, Fire Engines, Kyaks Easy for Woman Shopper

By TONY DICKASON

A dapper little woman with a preoccupied smile, who sells donkeys, dropped in today.

She crossed trimly-stockinged legs and mentioned casually she sells fire engnies, too, articles of religion, and all sorts of things including the paraphernalia of bingo.

At these sort of well-paying shenanigans Mrs. Alma Diebolt is master, or mistress, of the trade. The blonde Vancouver lady runs a shopping service whose motto is the well-worked adage: "The impossible we do immediately . . . miracles take a little longer."

But with her it apparently works, and has for the past 12 years.

ALL-EMBRACING

In her words, she deals in "anything at all." This means exactly what she says, and her company receives inquiries from across Canada, the United States and as far away as Australia, from people who haven't the know-how on how to obtain assorted items. Rare books come into this category, furnishings . . . even assignments to get watches repaired, shipped from chillsome Arctic settlements.

She started her unique "all things to all men" occupation for cloistered nuns in Vancouver. A relative was in the monastery, and Mrs. Diebolt, who always liked shopping—like most women—felt the good nuns might be getting a weensy-teensy bit gypped in their dealings with crass, money-hungry worldlings.

She was right. They had been rooked on assorted items, so Mrs. Diebolt took over purchasing. Through this she started buying for Catholic clergy all over B.C., religious necessities hard to obtain through ordinary channels.

GREW LIKE TOPSY

Her activities broadened, and atop purchases for clergy, she soon found herself in all types of buying and selling. Fire engines, for instance.

She is the only woman in the world selling them, and it's a tough racket. "Very difficult," she says, "as buying of fire engines is so deeply involved with local politics. But if anybody wants one, I'll sell them."

The burros are another matter. The likeable little docile animals are popular as pets. She's unloaded 15 in B.C. to date, brought up from Mexico.

Prospects for selling burros in the Victoria area she says are "good. Lots of acres and pasture." Just not any old body buys a burro, she explains. Among her clientele are a Queen's Counsel, a lumber tycoon and an allegedly distinguished journalist.

The burro business has been going on two years. They sell for $150 each (free burro on board, Vancouver).

"They are just the grandest," says Mrs. Diebolt, smiling fondly.

Purchasers don't have to renew burros very often. They live about 75 years, unless damaged.

As well as the only woman selling fire engines, Mrs. Diebolt is also Canada's only donkey impresario.

She's sold kyaks, also. Her first kyak order came from the wilderness area up that-away, and she didn't know what the word meant. Starting with a dictionary, she broke the enterprise down to size. The buyer got his little vessel.

She's surrounded by catalogues from all over the world, and generally works an 18-hour day.

Tough grind, Mrs. Diebolt?

"Goodness no. It's terrific. Every time I open the mail, you know, there we go again . . ."

'POP'—RIGHT IN THE RUMP

Phonograph Needles Hurt German Morale

LONDON (UP) — Prospective enemies of Great Britain will be sorry to hear that Maj. Clayton Hutton is still around. He's still thinking up clever ideas to help prisoners of war escape.

Right now Hutton is writing a book. It will be called "The "Hidden Catch," and contains as much as security allows him to say about the do-it-yourself schemes Hutton invented for British and American prisoners during the Second World War.

"Do you realize that the 230,000 men who were captured at Dunkirk had never been trained in ways to escape?" the major said hotly. "We had to train RAF crews so that if any of them were shot down they could teach the others."

Hutton, a spare, nervous man who was a movie press agent before the war, beat a path between army intelligence and private industry to get his escape gadgets into production.

"I had all the razor blades sold in Britain magnetized," he recalled. "You could tie one to a string and it would point north. So every man who shaved had a compass."

He also cornered the market in phonograph needles. Thousands were smuggled into France to be used as ammunition for a fountain pen gun.

"A German would be walking with a French girl when 'pop'—right in the rump. Then we spread a rumor the needles were tipped with poisons. The Germans were all rushing to the doctor!"

NO ORDINARY PEN

Another fountain pen Hutton designed had a more serious mission. It looked like a ordinary pen but the nib was magnetized and attached to an invisible piece of cork. The nib could be taken out and floated in water to become a compass.

Then the inner walls of the pen could be stretched out to form a map. Also, the pen contained not only ink but enough bleach to whiten a blue navy uniform and enough dye to turn it brown. Five tiny food tablets also were hidden inside, and the secret chamber was closed by a cap with opposite threads so efforts to open it only closed it tighter.

Hutton picked up a cigarette holder from his desk. It opened into a small telescope.

But the major is proudest of this device: from aerial photographs he constructed exact models of prisoner of war camps. The models were reproduced in collapsible plastic. These were spirited into the camps by secret routes.

Prisoners could inflate the model, and by using a match or flashlight figure out exactly what shadows the moon or camp lights would cast. Then escapes could be plotted taking advantage of shadowed areas in parts of the camp prisoners had never seen before.

Ike Eases Secrecy on A—Weapons

Canada, 13 NATO Nations to Get U.S. Information on Atomic Arms

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower today approved a proposed international agreement on the exchange of information dealing with atomic weapons among the 14 North Atlantic Treaty nations.

The agreement, still to be formally signed by the NATO nations, provides for exchange of data dealing with:

1. Development of defense plans.

2. The training of personnel in the use of and defense against atomic weapons.

Announcement of the president's approval of the proposed agreement was made at his vacation headquarters here by White House press secretary James C. Hagerty.

Hagerty emphasized that the agreement "does not relate in any way to exchange of atomic information with anyone on the manufacture or production of atomic weapons."

He said no actual atomic weapons will be exchanged.

Canada Defenses Aided by New Plan

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's armed forces and civil defense organizations are expected to receive more atomic information from the United States under a draft NATO agreement announced today.

The information deals with training of personnel in the use of and defense against atomic weapons; development of defense plans; and evaluation of a potential enemy's atomic capabilities.

The external affairs department said the agreement probably will be signed within the next two months. It was approved today by President Eisenhower.

The agreement, proposed to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization by the United States, will permit the U.S. to give its allies atomic information which the U.S. "deems necessary" for them to have.

A defense department spokesman said Canada already is receiving atomic information from the U.S. For example, Canadian observers are attending the current series of atomic tests in Nevada, the first such U.S. tests Canadians have been permitted to see.

In addition, the Canadian Army's No. 1 radiation detection unit is to participate in the tests late this month or early May.

The spokesman added, however, that the agreement is a broadening of U.S. policy in the atomic field and a "step ahead."

Full Precautions Taken at Hong Kong During Stopover of India Air Liner

LONDON (UP)—The Foreign Office today officially described the crash of an Air India plane carrying Communist Chinese representatives to the Afro-Asian conference in Indonesia as an "unfortunate accident."

The statement came shortly after the United States denied as "preposterous" the Peiping government's charges that Washington ordered the plane sabotaged.

The Foreign Office said full precautions were taken by Hong Kong authorities to prevent sabotage when the four-engine Constellation stopped there for an hour on its flight to Djakarta, Indonesia.

NEHRU STATEMENT

The British view took the steam out of a statement by Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru that the crash in the South China Sea Monday "has some very unusual features." He called it "peculiarly painful and distressing" because the plane was carrying the Peiping delegates.

Eight Chinese Communists, a representative from the Red state of Viet Minh in Indo-China, two European journalists and seven Indian crew members were aboard the plane. Only three persons, all Indian crewmen, were believed saved. A report that six were saved was put down to "garbled" radio messages.

A Peiping protest said the Communist Chinese had warned Humphrey Trevelyan, British charge d'affaires in the Red Capital, of possible sabotage when the plane reached Hong Kong. The Communist charges were broadcast first by the Peiping radio. Moscow rebroadcast them today.

A Foreign Office spokesman confirmed that Communist China gave Britain an advance warning "in general terms" of "possible trouble" in store for the Constellation.

He said this information was passed promptly to Hong Kong authorities and they took immediate precautions. The fact the plane later crashed was only an "unfortunate accident," the Foreign Office said, and "we very much regret the loss of life."

Treaty Talks Make Progress Says Molotov

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov said today he believes his current talks with Austrian Chancellor Julius Raab will facilitate the conclusion of an Austrian state treaty.

This would end the 10-year occupation of that country by Russia, United States, Britain and France. Asked whether the talks will lead to negotiations in signing a treaty, Molotov replied: "Not everything depends on us.

"We would like something agreed among the four powers and Austria and we believe that what will be agreed on here with Austria will facilitate that ultimate objective."

Molotov chatted with Western reporters at a reception given by Austrian ambassador Norbert Bischoff in honor of his visiting chief.

By saying "not everything depends on us," the Russian diplomat was referring to the need for agreement with the other occupying powers in order to conclude the treaty.

TALKS GOING WELL

Asked if his talks with the Austrians were going well, Molotov replied: "I think so." Then he added:

"The talks are going on on the old basis but positions are being made more precise and there is a certain rapprochement."

U.S. MEDAL FOR SALK?

WASHINGTON (Reuters) — Congress was asked today to honor Dr. Jonas Salk with a gold medal for his discovery of the anti-poliomyelitis vaccine.

A bill authorizing the treasury to coin a medal with suitable inscriptions was presetned in the House of Representatives.

6,000 Here List Names For Vaccine

Druggists Fear Can't Fill Demand

(TORONTO (CP) — Parke, Davis and Co. Ltd. says it can "saturate" the commercial polio vaccine market in Canada within 90 days.

(Gordon D. Hambley, Canadian sales manager, said a "three-shot" vial will sell in Canada for $6 or $6.60, plus the administering physician's fee.)

An estimated 6,000 Greater Victoria families have already placed their names on drug store waiting lists for Salk anti-polio vaccine, a telephone survey revealed today.

Most pharmacists are doubtful that initial stocks will be sufficient to fill the demand.

However, drug store waiting lists may prove meaningless in view of statements by doctors Tuesday that first vaccine prescriptions will be for children and expectant mothers.

Two Canadian supply houses, Parke Davis & Company Ltd. and Eli Lilly Corporation, each expect to land Salk vaccine here in a matter of days. But no druggist interviewed today appeared certain how great a quantity would arrive.

3,000 DOSES

One supply house is believed to have allotted 3,000 doses to Victoria, 50 per cent going direct to doctors.

Eli Lilly Company possibly will delay shipments due to a change in the dosage advocated by Dr. James E. Salk. Heretofore all three injections were given in a period of a month and a half. Dr. Salk said Tuesday his new studies indicate the results would be better if the third dose was delayed seven months.

Free distribution of the Salk vaccine to all who wish it is the long-range plan of B.C. government health authorities, it was announced by Dr. George Elliott, deputy provincial health officer, in Vancouver Tuesday.

(In Ontario the government plans to provide vaccine injections to every school child, free of charge, as fast as the vaccine becomes available.)

CANADA EXEMPTED

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. government today slapped export controls on the Salk polio vaccine.

The commerce department said the controls will be maintained until production of the vaccine is sufficient to meet both anticipated domestic and foreign demands.

Under the control system, licenses will be required for any shipment abroad except to Canada.

NEW TARGET

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UP) — Dr. Salk believes science should now turn its efforts against mental disease as the next major target of preventive medicine.

"The area of mental disease is one of the largest by far, and particularly desperately in need of quantitative measures that tell us precisely what we are dealing with," Dr. Salk said Tuesday night.

RUSH TO INOCULATE

WASHINGTON (UP) — The 57,000,000 Americans most susceptible to polio will receive shots of Dr. Salk's miracle vaccine in record time—perhaps before mid-summer, it was predicted today.

MILLION IN CANADA

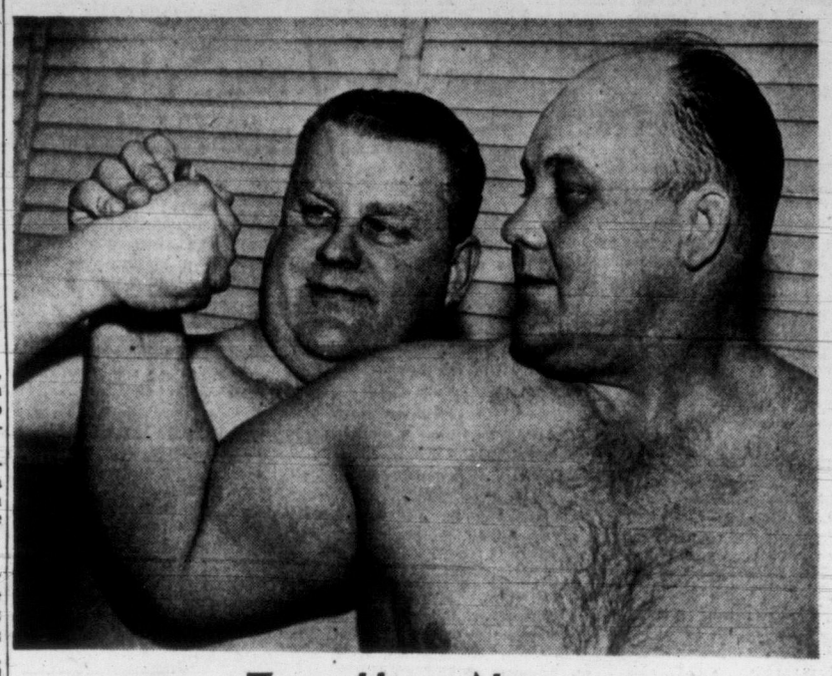
OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian health authorities, elated over the success of the Salk polio vaccine, are ready for a mass attack on the crippling, killing disease. Free inoculation of possibly 1,000,000 Canadian youngsters is planned for this year.

Ft. St. John Well Burns Uncontrolled

EDMONTON (CP) — Wildwell expert Myron Kinley was scheduled to leave Edmonton by plane today for northeastern British Columbia where a natural gas well is burning out of control.

The fire, cause of which is not known in Edmonton, broke out overnight and destroyed drilling rig in 10 minutes. No one was hurt at the well, 70 miles northwest of Fort St. John.

Thomas Swims Tonight —If Winds Stay Down



Zero Hour Nears

Strait challenger Bert Thomas (270 pounds) matched muscles with his trainer, Maurie Hume (240) as the zero hour drew near for Thomas to match muscles with Juan de Fuca Strait. Weather forecasts delayed definite decision on whether or not the swim would start at 9 tonight as originally planned. (Times photo by Bill Halkett.)

9 p.m. Take-off Decision Delayed For Final Check

Chances of making his Juan de Fuca swim attempt tonight at 9 appeared favorable to Bert Thomas and party at noon today, but last-minute decision was not to be made until 4 p.m.

Tonight's weather conditions in the strait were forecast this morning by the local weather office. Winds at 15-20 miles an hour are expected from the southwest this evening and Thursday morning, which may be stronger in the strait itself.

Navigator Hugh Evans and trainer Maurie Hume were taking a small boat six or seven miles into the strait this afternoon to "look for themselves."

If the swim is postponed, it is planned to make another attempt Thursday at 10 p.m. from the same spot—Horseshoe Bay—and if weather is still against an attempt, no further try will be made until May, probably about the middle of the month.

CONFLICTING REPORTS

At noon today the official swim party found it was getting conflicting reports on expected weather conditions tonight and Thursday morning.

Port Angeles Coast Guard station told trainer Hume by telephone that winds during the planned swim period would blow up from the NNW to 15 miles an hour, which would be comparatively calm for the strait.

This morning's forecast from Victoria weather office predicted steady westerly winds from 15-20 miles an hour and possible gusts to 25 out in the strait proper. Showers were also predicted.

Escort and navigation vessels to take part in the swim flotilla are expected to include the Island Challenger with navigator Captain Hugh Evans and newspapermen aboard; the Island Trooper and the privately-owned schooner Black Dog.

The coaching boat, with outboard motor, will be in command of Mr. Hume and Dave Evans, brother of the navigator. Lionel Dickson and Doug Hobbs will act as timers, and Bert's wife Marion will assist in the small boat.

Captain Evans and Mr. Hume will be in touch with each other by radio-telephone. The navigator's tug will be about 50 yards ahead of the coaching boat and will carry a bright blue light on the after mast to guide Thomas.

CUTTER READY

Coast Guard cutters from Port Angeles will perform additional escort duties, the trainer said.

Meanwhile, Dr. Frank James, Tacoma, arrived in Victoria at noon to prepare the swimmer's liquid diet which will be administered to him in the water by means of a plastic tube.

The mixtures will include water, lemon, dextrose and rum and are calculated to provide the number of calories it is estimated Thomas will consume in swimming the 18½-mile, 9-11-hour course.

Dr. James pronounces Thomas "physically fit," but points out that sea-sickness is always possible.

"There is not a man in the world who cannot be made seasick if he is buffeted around enough or swallows enough sea water," the doctor said.

"I am praying that it will not be too rough. Given the right conditions, I think he has the stuff to make it."

Dr. James was a flying command surgeon in the United States Air Force in the Second World War, and has had much experience in the field of emergency treatment as taught to para-medics.

He will be on board the navigating tug and will have with him equipment to take care of any emergency.

Police say they will have men on duty at Horseshoe Bay to take care of traffic and crowds if the swim carries on.

Medical Forum Assured Of Full House Thursday

A full attendance at the free medical forum on heart disease Thursday night was assured today when final tickets were issued to those who have applied for them.

The forum, sponsored by the Times and the Victoria Medical Society, takes place at the Central Junior High School auditorium.

Doors to the auditorium will open at 7.30 p.m. and the forum begins at 8 p.m.

Admission will be by tickets issued over the last few weeks in response to applications.

Since it is possible some people who have received tickets will find themselves unable to attend because of last minute engagements, there probably will be a few seats available for those without tickets, but ticket holders will have priority.

The Yates Street entrance will be used by the public. There are no large scale parking facilities on the school grounds, so parking will be on nearby streets.

Between 7.30 and 8, the Victoria Musicians' Union, Local 247, under Vernon Bryant, will provide a band concert of military and appropriate airs to entertain early arrivals.

Program for the forum provides for a two-hour session on all phases of heart disease.

After opening introductions by Stuart Keate, Times publisher, and Dr. Gordon Grant, president of the medical society, the forum will be turned over to Dr. T. F. Rose as moderator.

With the aid of large charts he will explain the functions of the heart.

FIVE DOCTORS

Each of the five doctors on the panel will then deal with different aspects of heart trouble as follows:

Dr. Andrew Gillespie, "Heart Disease and Children."

Dr. P. A. C. Cousland, "Coronary Artery Diseases."

Dr. Stuart Kenning, "High Blood Pressure."

Dr. Rose, "Heart Failure."

Dr. Peter Banks, "Care of the Aging Heart Patient."

They will deal for 10 minutes each with these subjects and the panel will turn to answering questions.

Out of literally hundreds of questions submitted by the public for the forum, some will be answered by the main addresses. Forty others have been selected for specific answers by different members of the panel to occupy the next hour of the program.

DR. GORDON GRANT
. . . will open forum

Greek-Anglican Communion Sexton's Hope

Hope that the Anglican Church and the Greek Orthodox Church will be "in full communion with one another at an early date," was expressed here today by Archbishop of British Columbia H. E. Sexton.

He was commenting on the theological aspects of a funeral held from Christ Church Cathedral Tuesday for well-known Victoria restaurateur Theodore Alexis, 73, a Greek Orthodox adherent.

Said His Grace: "The priest who officiated (Rev. Zeates, Vancouver) at the funeral belongs to the Greek Orthodox Church which is one of the great branches of the Catholic Church, and is on terms of great friendship with the Church of England, so that whenever possible Anglican churches are available for use by the priests of that church."

The Greek Orthodox Church is not in communion with Rome.

RED-TINGED LINES TOO DULL FOR LONDONERS

Paperless Percy Avid for News —But 'Worker' Just Ain't Got it

By HAL COOPER

LONDON (AP)—A bartender friend of ours named Percy (with his face he can carry it) emerged from deep inside the Communist Daily Worker today and pronounced judgment:

"It'll never replace the old-fashioned newspaper."

He may be on solid ground, but at the moment the Red party organ—all four pages and 80,000 copies of it—is striving to do so.

Because of London's newspaper strike, The Worker is the only daily publishing in the capital. It is read avidly by people who normally wouldn't fondle it with a set of tongs.

It fetches premium prices on the black market.

What an opportunity for converts!

Recognizing this, The Worker in a front page editorial has deposed thusly:

"No new reader who comes again must find he can not get the Daily Worker. All newly won ground must be consolidated."

This led us to interview Percy —who might be described loosely as newly won ground—to see whether he is so far in a condition of consolidation.

Well, we've got news for The Worker—and it's not good.

"I want to be fair about this," said Percy. "But to tell you the truth, I think I'd rather have my Daily Mirror."

We asked him what faults he had to find with The Worker. "Look at this front page," said Percy, pointing to the headline: "Bulgarians Conquer London."

"Fair gave me a start, that did. And you know what it's about? It's about some dancing troupe from Sofia. What kind of a lark is that?"

He read off some other headlines:

"Catastrophe in cotton; human realities of slump in our oldest industry"—"shop workers want 15-shilling rise" — "teachers bitter" — "don't make H-bomb, calls union" — "'bolder' U.S. war plan for Europe."

"Couple of weeks of that and I'll be so deep in the dumps they'll have to sink a shaft for me," Percy commented.

STRIKE RULED UNJUSTIFIABLE

LONDON (Reuters)—An impartial government investigation today found a 20-day-old London newspaper strike "unjustifiable" and recommended the 700 striking electricians and maintenance men to return to their jobs, pending further negotiations.

The labor ministry immediately called a peace meeting for Thursday morning in an effort to gain a settlement and head off the scheduled dismissal Friday of 20,000 non-editorial workers outside the strike.

Hope Mister Thomas keeps t' th' strait an' narrow, though there'll prob'ly be too much o' th' former an' not enuff o' th' latter.

Feller sez this talk about a limited atomic war is like sayin' y'll go just part way over Niagry Falls.

Semenick to Give Evidence If Heart Attacks Permit

VANCOUVER (CP) — Two city police officers were handed subpoenas today to appear as defense witnesses in the trial of William Semenick, charged with trafficking in narcotics.

Ordered to appear were police superintendent Harry Whelan, head of the uniform branch and Sgt. George Pinchin, head of the police training school.

Semenick, who has pleaded not guilty, faces a 14-year maximum sentence if convicted.

Semenick suffered a partial collapse in court today because of a heart condition. Proceedings were stopped for three-quarters of an hour while he was taken into another room.

Lawyer James Sutherland said his client will take the stand in his own defense—"if his heart can stand it."

Before the assize jury Tuesday, special prosecutor Wilfred Heffernan said he would bring evidence to show rookie police constable Joe Haywood, 26, worked for almost a month with Semenick without the knowledge of his superior officers.

SAN FRANCISCO (BUP)—Middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson weighed in today at 169 for his non-title 10-round fight with former light heavyweight King Joey Maxim.

Zero Hour Nears for Husky Swimmer

Strait challenger Bert Thomas (270 pounds) matched muscles with his trainer, Maurie Hume (240) as the zero hour drew near for Thomas to match muscles with Juan de Fuca Strait. Weather forecasts delayed definite decision on whether or not the swim would start at 9 tonight as originally planned. (Times photo by Bill Halkett.)

Ike Eases Secrecy on Atom Data

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower today approved a proposed international agreement on the exchange of information dealing with atomic weapons among the 14 North Atlantic Treaty nations.

The agreement, still to be formally signed by the NATO nations, provides for exchange of data dealing with:

1. Development of defense plans.

2. The training of personnel in the use of and defense against atomic weapons.

Announcement of the president's approval of the proposed agreement was made at his vacation headquarters here by White House press secretary James C. Hagerty.

Hagerty emphasized that the agreement "does not relate in any way to exchange of atomic information with anyone on the manufacture or production of atomic weapons."

He said no actual atomic weapons will be exchanged.

Canada Defenses Aided by New Plan

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's armed forces and civil defense organizations are expected to receive more atomic information from the United States under a draft NATO agreement announced today.

The information deals with training of personnel in the use of and defense against atomic weapons; development of defense plans; and evaluation of a potential enemy's atomic capabilities.

The external affairs department said the agreement probably will be signed within the next two months. It was approved today by President Eisenhower.

The agreement, proposed to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization by the United States, will permit the U.S. to give its allies atomic information which the U.S. "deems necessary" for them to have.

A defense department spokesman said Canada already is receiving atomic information from the U.S. For example, Canadian observers are attending the current series of atomic tests in Nevada, the first such U.S. tests Canadians have been permitted to see.

In addition, the Canadian Army's No. 1 radiation detection unit is to participate in the tests late this month or early May.

The spokesman added, however, that the agreement is a broadening of U.S. policy in the atomic field and a "step ahead."

Hope Mister Thomas keeps t' th' strait an' narrow, though there'll prob'ly be too much o' th' former an' not enuff o' th' latter.

9 P.M. Start Hinges On Last-Minute Check

Chances of making his Juan de Fuca swim attempt tonight at 9 appeared favorable to Bert Thomas and party at noon today, but last-minute decision was not to be made until later today.

Tonight's weatner conditions in the strait were forecast this morning by the local weather office. Winds at 15-20 miles an hour are expected from the southwest this evening and Thursday morning, which may be stronger in the strait itself.

Navigator Hugh Evans and trainer Maurie Hume were taking a small boat six or seven miles into the strait this afternoon to "look for themselves."

If the swim is postponed, it is planned to make another attempt Thursday at 10 p.m. from the same spot—Horseshoe Bay—and if weather is still against an attempt, no further try will be made until May, probably about the middle of the month.

CONFLICTING REPORTS

At noon today the official swim party found it was getting conflicting reports on expected weather conditions tonight and Thursday morning.

Port Angeles Coast Guard station told trainer Hume by telephone that winds during the planned swim period would blow up from the NNW to 15 miles an hour, which would be comparatively calm for the strait.

This morning's forecast from Victoria weather office predicted steady westerly winds from 15-20 miles an hour and possible gusts to 25 out in the strait proper. Showers were also predicted.

Escort and navigation vessels to take part in the swim flotilla are expected to include the Island Challenger with navigator Captain Hugh Evans and newspapermen aboard; the Island Trooper and the privately-owned schooner Black Dog.

The coaching boat, with outboard motor, will be in command of Mr. Hume and Dave Evans, brother of the navigator. Lionel Dickson and Doug Hobbs will act as timers, and Bert's wife Marion will assist in the small boat.

Captain Evans and Mr. Hume will be in touch with each other by radio-telephone. The navigator's tug will be about 50 yards ahead of the coaching boat and will carry a bright blue light on the after mast to guide Thomas.

Coast Guard cutters from Port Angeles will perform additional escort duties, the trainer said.

Meanwhile, Dr. Frank James, Tacoma, arrived in Victoria at noon to prepare the swimmer's liquid diet which will be ad-

6,000 HERE LIST NAMES FOR VACCINE

Druggists Fear Can't Fill Demand

TORONTO (CP) — Parke, Davis and Co. Ltd. says it can "saturate" the commercial polio vaccine market in Canada within 90 days.

(Gordon D. Hambley, Canadian sales manager, said a "three-shot" vial will sell in Canada for $6 or $6.60, plus the administering physician's fee.

An estimated 6,000 Greater Victoria families have already placed their names on drug store waiting lists for Salk anti-polio vaccine, a telephone survey revealed today.

Most pharmacists are doubtful that initial stocks will be sufficient to fill the demand.

However, drug store waiting lists may prove meaningless in view of statements by doctors Tuesday that first vaccine prescriptions will be for children and expectant mothers.

Two Canadian supply houses, Parke Davis & Company Ltd. and Eli Lilly Corporation, each expect to land Salk vaccine here in a matter of days. But no druggist interviewed today appeared certain how great a quantity would arrive.

3,000 DOSES

One supply house is believed to have allotted 3,000 doses to Victoria, 50 per cent going direct to doctors.

Eli Lilly Company possibly will delay shipments due to a change in the dosage advocated by Dr. James E. Salk. Heretofore all three injections were given in a period of a month and a half. Dr. Salk said Tuesday his new studies indicate the results would be better if the third dose was delayed seven months.

Free distribution of the Salk vaccine to all who wish it is the long-range plan of B.C. government health authorities, it was announced by Dr. George Elliott, deputy provincial health officer, in Vancouver Tuesday.

Medical Forum Assured Of Full House Thursday

A full attendance at the free medical forum on heart disease Thursday night was assured today when final tickets were issued to those who have applied for them.

The forum, sponsored by the Times and the Victoria Medical Society, takes place at the Central Junior High School auditorium.

Doors to the auditorium will open at 7.30 p.m. and the forum begins at 8 p.m.

Admission will be by tickets issued over the last few weeks in response to applications.

Since it is possible some people who have received tickets will find themselves unable to attend because of last minute engagements, there probably will be a few seats available for those without tickets, but ticket holders will have priority.

The Yates Street entrance will be used by the public. There are no large scale parking facilities on the school grounds, so parking will be on nearby streets.

Between 7.30 and 8, the Victoria Musicians' Union, Local 247, under Vernon Bryant, will provide a band concert of military and appropriate airs to entertain early arrivals.

Program for the forum provides for a two-hour session on all phases of heart disease.

After opening introductions by Stuart Keate, Times publisher, and Dr. Gordon Grant, president of the medical society, the forum will be turned over to Dr. T. F. Rose as moderator.

With the aid of large charts he will explain the functions of the heart.

Each of the five doctors on the panel will then deal with different aspects of heart trouble as follows:

Dr. Andrew Gillespie, "Heart Disease and Children."

Dr. P. A. C. Cousland, "Coronary Artery Diseases."

Dr. Stuart Kenning, "High Blood Pressure."

Dr. Rose, "Heart Failure."

Dr. Peter Banks, "Care of the Aging Heart Patient."

They will deal for 10 minutes each with these subjects and the panel will turn to answering questions.

Out of literally hundreds of questions submitted by the public for the forum, some will be answered by the main addresses. Forty others have been selected for specific answers by different members of the panel to occupy the next hour of the program.
